Also, upon the same ballot, to vote “Yes” or “No” upon the question, “Shall licenses be granted for the sale of intoxicating liquors in this town?” For these purposes the polls will be opened at 7.15 o’clock in the forenoon, and may be closed at 5.15 in the afternoon. Also, to choose or appoint all other usual town officers in such manner as the town may determine.”

Voted, That the meeting now proceed to choose the Town Officers as specially enumerated in the second article of the warrant. Also to vote “Yes” or “No” upon the question, “Shall licenses be granted for the sale of intoxicating liquors in this town?” Also to choose or appoint all other usual town officers.

Voted, That the Board of Selectmen to be elected, and Mrs. Henrietta G. Codman and Miss Martha W. Edgerly be the Overseers of the Poor for the ensuing year.

Voted, That the polls be kept open for voting under the second article until thirty minutes past five of the clock in the afternoon.

In conformity with the laws of the Commonwealth in relation to elections, the Town Hall had been fitted up as a polling place, a space railed off and thirty shelves or compartments provided for the convenience of voters to examine and mark their ballots, each compartment being supplied with cards of instruction and suitable conveniences for that purpose.

The Moderator appointed Constable Willard Y. Gross to have charge of the space inside of the railing and as an assistant teller, and Harry H. Whitney to be a teller, and they were sworn by the Town Clerk.

The ballot clerks, Frederic M. Bond and Francis F. Muldowney, who had been appointed by the Selectmen, were sworn by the Town Clerk. The ballot clerks were then stationed at the entrance to the polling place, and furnished with duplicate lists of the registered voters of the town, one for men and one for women voters.

The Town Clerk, in conformity with the provisions of chapter four hundred and seventeen of the Acts of the year eighteen hundred and ninety-three, then delivered to the ballot clerks two sealed packages marked "Official Ballots for the Town of Brookline, March 27th, 1895," one package marked "2000" and one "2055"; and two packages marked "Special Ballots for Women Only, March 27th, 1895," marked "150" each; which he had caused to be printed and prepared for the purposes aboved named, and took their receipt therefor, said ballots to be delivered by them to the legal voters as called, and to check their names on the lists when so delivered. Cards of instruction and specimen ballots were also posted in different parts of the hall outside of the railing.

The ballot-box to be used at elections was then opened in the public meeting and examined by the Moderator and Town Clerk, and shown to be empty. The register of the box was then set at zero (0) and locked; the key of the lower part was delivered to Constable Willard Y. Gross, and the key of the upper part to the Moderator. The polls were then declared open for the reception of votes, at fifteen minutes past seven of the clock in the forenoon.

The Moderator appointed as assistant ballot clerk, Frank T. Fay, and as tellers to sort and count the votes, Edward F. Mullooney, Albert P. Briggs, Harry Young, Frank A. Hogan, Charles W. Morgan, Isaac H. Sears, George F. Maxwell, Charles H. Harris, Walter W. Paige, Joseph Driscoll, Frederick Cunningham and Edwin P. Bowker, and they were sworn by the Moderator.

After giving due notice of the closing of the polls they were declared closed at thirty minutes past five of the clock in the afternoon.

During the time of voting the ballot-box was opened once by consent of the Moderator and the Town Clerk, at ten minutes past one of the clock in the afternoon, for the purpose of counting, and again at the close of the polls, when the register at the ballot-box stood at thirteen hundred and seventeen (1317).

During the voting the box failed to register the ballots cast seventeen times, but cancelled them correctly. The names on the lists of men and women voters which had been checked were then counted, and the whole number was thirteen hundred and thirty-four, which agreed with the number registered by the box after adding to the number registered the seventeen times the box failed to register.

The lists of voters used by the ballot clerks were then compared with those used by the Town Clerk at the ballot-box, and found to agree. The number of ballots left at the close of the polls deducted from the whole number receipted for by the ballot clerks, showed that twelve hundred and ninety-eight had been delivered to men, and thirty-six to women voters.

The Moderator and tellers canvassed the votes given in, and the whole number was one thousand three hundred and thirty-four, thirty-six of which were women's votes for School Committee, which were sorted, counted and declaration thereof made in open town meeting; and the following persons having a plurality, were declared elected, viz. :

We take all the said land in fee simple, but we reserve to each owner of each parcel of land taken and to his heirs and assigns the right to use the surface of the parcel taken from each owner for the purpose of a street or way, subject only to the right of the said Town and the Selectmen, and officials thereof, to make, lay, and from time to time repair, enlarge, and forever maintain throughout the entire length and breadth of each and all of the said parcels of land taken, such underground channels, drains, or water courses, as may be deemed desirable by said town, or the Selectmen, or officials thereof; the said town and its officers and agents to have at all times, for the above purposes, the right to dig up the surface of each and all of said parcels of land, restoring the said surface to its former condition, after the necessary work of construction or repair is completed.

We have estimated the damages sustained by the owners of lands, rights and interests in lands, caused by this taking and location, whether by the taking of land, or injuring it in any manner whatsoever, and do estimate and determine the amounts to be paid to said parties respectively as follows:

To James H. Beals	$5.00
“ David H. McKay	5.00

D. 1895, at 8.15 P. Pursuant to such notice, we met at the time and place appointed for the hearing, and no person appearing to object, and the route of the roads having been viewed and examined by us, after fully considering the subject, do adjudge that it is necessary for the public convenience, that the roads should be laid out and maintained by the town as herein-after described.

All as shown on a plan of the same made by Alexis H. French, C. E., dated Sept. 30th, 1895, approved by us, verified by our signatures, and adopted as a part of this record.

We also take the right to support said roads by sloping the banks upon the land of abutting owners; but this is not intended to affect or impair at all the right of any owner of such adjoining land to use such slopes for building, or any other purpose or use whatsoever, incident to the ownership of the fee in said slopes, that will not impair the security of the road-bed.

We have estimated the damages sustained by the owners of lands, rights, and interests caused by the laying out of said roads, whether by taking land or by injuring property in any manner whatsoever, and do estimate and determine the amount to be paid to the said parties as follows:—

To the owner, or the owners of the fee of the land over which said roads are laid out, $1.00.

Pursuant to such notice, we met at the time and place appointed for the hearing, and no person appearing to object, and the route of the proposed street having been viewed and examined by us, after fully considering the subject, do adjudge that it is necessary for the public convenience that the street should be laid out and maintained by the town as hereinafter described.

Beginning at a point in the northerly line of Walnut street, situated 17.43 feet easterly from the boundary line between land of Martin P. Kennard and Stephen D. Bennett, then running westerly and curving to the right with a radius of 25 feet, 28.96 feet; then curving to the right with a radius of 855.1 feet for 127.22 feet; then curving to the right with a radius of 253.4 feet for 148.60 feet; then curving to the right with a radius of 1180 feet for 202.29 feet; then curving to the right with a radius of 470.34 feet for 76.43 feet; then running northerly by a tangent

The said Martin P. Kennard agrees to do all the cutting, filling and making of embankments as required to bring the road to sub-grade; also, to construct a suitable culvert for the brook where it passes under the road. The town is then to finish the road, as follows: The roadway is to be macadamized twelve inches in depth, the gutters paved with stone, where needed, all required catch-basins and surface-water drains to be built, the sidewalks to be made of gravel, with grass borders, and a plank walk laid on one side.

And said street, as so laid out and located and described, is hereby reported to the town for acceptance, and when so accepted, allowed and recorded, is to be known as a townway called Chestnut street.

The said plan, profile, and this record, have been this day filed in the office of the Town Clerk.

Your committee charged with the duty of advising the town whether to accept the bequest of Hon. William Aspinwall, deceased, upon the conditions named in the will, beg leave to report—

That they are impressed with the propriety of a memorial to Isaac Gardner, a member of one of the oldest and most prominent Brookline families, who, after serving the town in almost every capacity, civil and military, was killed by the British troops at North Cambridge, on the 19th of April, 1775, having hastened thither as a volunteer.

Mr. Aspinwall's legacy is for a monument to be erected on the highway or on a square, and while the tribute is deserved, and the town is justly reminded of a neglected duty, it seems to your committee that this mode of preserving the memory of this patriotic citizen is inconsistent with the policy of the town, established after a spirited discussion prolonged over several years.

The result was that the town, rejecting other modes of commemorating the deaths of her soldiers incurred in the Civil War, placed the record upon tablets placed in the vestibule of the Town Hall, where all assemble to take council together, and where they may be inspired by the examples of heroic self-sacrifice to appreciate the dignity and responsibility of citizenship.

Thus the Town Hall becomes the focus of the town, where the business of the present is transacted and the history of the past is recorded, — a reasonable and desirable concentration.

Your committee, therefore, recommend that the town respectfully decline the gift of an out-door monument, and pursuing its settled policy, shall, in like grateful remembrance of her earlier as of her later heroes, place in the vestibule of the Town Hall a tablet to Isaac Gardner, the first citizen of Brookline who gave his life in defense of his country's liberties, in the War of the Revolution.

We deem it important, moreover, that this power of erecting memorials should be jealously retained by the town, otherwise propositions less reasonable than this may be put forward by individuals moved by feelings not shared by the community. One has only to visit any of our cemeteries or regard the memorial windows in some modern churches to be made aware of the discrepancy between private and public estimation.

MARTIN P. KENNARD.

ROBERT S. PEABODY.

HORACE JAMES,
NATHANIEL CONANT,
CHAS. H. DREW,
WM. J. SEAVER,
JAMES M. CODMAN, JR.,
Selectmen of Brookline.

NORFOLK, SS.

BROOKLINE, October 29th, 1895.

By virtue of this warrant, I have notified and warned the inhabitants of Brookline, qualified to vote in elections, to meet at the time and place, and for the purposes herein named, by causing an attested copy of the same to be left at their last and usual place of abode, and I also posted printed attested copies of this warrant in three or more public places in said town of Brookline, all of which was done seven days at least before the day of said meeting.

W. Y. GROSS, Constable.

In pursuance of the foregoing warrant, the inhabitants of the town of Brookline, qualified to vote in elections, met in the Town Hall in said town, on Tuesday, the fifth day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five, it being the Tuesday next after the first Monday in said month, and were called to order at forty-five minutes past six of the clock in the forenoon, by Horace James, chairman of the Selectmen, and presiding election officer. The Town Clerk then read the warrant calling said meeting and the return thereon of the officer who served the same upon the inhabitants.

In conformity with the laws of this Commonwealth in relation to elections, the Town Hall had been fitted up as a polling place, a space railed off and thirty-five shelves or compartments provided for the use and convenience of voters to examine and mark their ballots, each compartment being supplied with cards of instruction and suitable conveniences for that purpose.

The Inspectors, Frederic M. Bond and Francis F. Muldowney, and Deputy Inspectors Edwin N. Tyler and Frank A. Hogan, and the Tellers, Alfred E. Kenrick, Harry H. Whitney, Frank T. Sullivan, Frederick A. Flood, Tucker Daland, Charles A. W. Spencer, Charles W. Morgan, George P. Johnson, William H. James, John E. Griffin, William B. Tyler, Edwin A. Robart, Thomas F. Barrett, D. Edward Beede, John J. Cantwell, Frank T. Fay, Harry Young and David F. Baxter, who had been appointed by the Selectmen, were then sworn by the Town Clerk to the faithful discharge of their duties, and with the Selectmen and Town Clerk making an equal number of election officers from the two leading political parties.

Messrs. Frederic M. Bond and Francis F. Muldowney were then stationed at the entrance to the polling place and furnished with duplicate lists of the voters of the town, as prepared by the Registrars of Voters, one for men and one for women voters.

One set of the ballots supplied by the Secretary of the Commonwealth, marked "First set, three thousand one hundred and fifty ballots," also one set marked "First set, three thousand one hundred and fifty ballots for women, Town of Brookline," was then delivered to the presiding election officer by the Town Clerk, who took his receipt therefor. The presiding officer then publicly broke the seals of said packages and delivered said ballots to the inspectors, who furnished them to the voters as they presented themselves, and checked their names on the lists.

The cards of instruction and specimen ballots were also posted in different parts of the hall outside the railing.

The ballot box, "The Ideal," furnished by the Commonwealth to be used at this election, was then opened in public meeting and examined by the election officers and shown to be empty.

The register of the box was then set at zero (0) and locked, and the key was delivered to Willard Y. Gross, the constable in charge of the meeting.

The polls were then declared open for the reception of votes, and were kept open until twenty minutes past four of the clock in the afternoon, when on motion it was voted that they be kept open until thirty-three minutes past four of the clock in the afternoon, at which time, after due notice, they were declared closed.

The election officers had charge of the election and the ballot box, and the check lists were in their care, and by unanimous consent the ballot box was opened at fifteen minutes past nine of the clock in the forenoon, and again several times in the afternoon, for the purpose of counting the ballots cast, and again at the close of the polls, when the register stood at two thousand two hundred and thirty-five (2,235). During the voting the box had registered two times, but did not pass or cancel the ballot. The names on the lists of men and women voters were then counted, and the whole number was two thousand two hundred and thirty-three, which was found to agree with the register after deducting the two times that the box registered but did not cancel the ballots, also with the lists checked by the inspectors at the polling place, and the number of ballots cast.

The number of ballots left at the close of the polls, deducted from the whole number receipted for by the presiding election officer, showed that one thousand nine hundred and ninety-two ballots had been delivered to men, and two hundred and forty-one to women.

The election officers then proceeded to canvass the votes given in, and the whole number was two thousand two hundred and thirty-three, which were sorted, counted and recorded, and declaration thereof made in open town meeting, as required by law, and were for the following State and County officers, and referendum in relation to granting municipal suffrage to women, viz. : —

We, the undersigned, Selectmen of the Town of Brookline, having given printed and written notices to the Brookline Land Company and Mary G. Appleton, being all the parties known to us to be interested in the subject-matter of the street to be laid out, of our intention to lay out a street substantially on the line of a private way known as Glen road, leading from Allerton street to Cumberland avenue, such notices requiring such persons to appear before us, at our room in the Town Hall, on Monday, January 20, 1896, at 5 o'clock P. Beginning at a point upon the northeasterly side of Cumberland avenue, situated two hundred feet southeasterly from the point where the said line is intersected by the center line of Hill street, thence running northeasterly in a direction parallel with Hill street, for a distance of 606.15 feet to the southwesterly side of Allerton street. The side lines of said Glen road are parallel with, and twenty feet distant from, the above-described center line, taking from the owners of the fee of said private way, 24,246 square feet of land.

The location of said Glen road is in accordance with a plan and profile of the same made by French & Bryant, civil engineers, dated December 14, 1895, approved by us, verified by our signatures, and adopted as a part of this record.

We also take the right to support said road by sloping the banks upon the land of abutting owners; but this is not intended to affect or impair at all the right of any owner of such adjoining land to use such slopes for, building, or any other purpose or use whatsoever, incident to the ownership of the fee in said slopes, that will not impair the security of the road-bed.

No awards are made. The owners of the fee of the land over which said road is laid out, in consideration of the laying out by the Selectmen and its acceptance by the town, waive all claims to land, grade or other damages.

And said road, so laid out, located and described, is hereby reported to the town for acceptance, and when so accepted, allowed and recorded, is to be known as a townway called Glen road.

The road having been constructed by the owners of the fee, is open to the public for travel.

The said plan, profile, release and this record, have this day been filed in the office of the Town Clerk.

Voted, To accept and allow Glen road, as laid out by the Selectmen and reported to the town at this meeting, as a townway.

Third Article taken up, — “To accept and allow Spring road, as laid out by the Selectmen and reported to the town at this meeting.”

Voted, That the reading of the report on the laying out of Spring road be dispensed with.

The Selectmen presented the following report on the laying out of said road, to wit :

We, the undersigned, Selectmen of the Town of Brookline, having given a written and printed notice to the trustees of the Brookline Land Company, being the only parties known to us to be interested in the subject-matter of the street to be laid out, of our intention to lay out a street, substantially on the line of a private way known as Spring road, leading from Highland road to Jamaica road, such notice requiring such persons to appear before us at our room in the Town Hall, on Monday, January 20th, 1896, at 5 o'clock P. M., and having caused such notice to be actually served according to law upon the said parties by a constable of this town, at least seven days before the day so appointed for the hearing, and having given notice to them and all other persons (if any) who 'may be interested in the subject-matter of said street, whose names are not known to us, or who have no place of abode in the town, or who have no tenant or authorized agent known to us, by posting up copies of the printed and written notice in three public places in the town, seven days at least before the day appointed for the hearing:

Pursuant to such notice, we met at the time and place appointed for the hearing, and no person appearing to object, and the route of the proposed street having been viewed and examined by us, after fully considering the subject, do adjudge that it is necessary for the public convenience that the street should be laid out and maintained by the town as hereinafter described.

Beginning at a point upon the east side of Jamaica road, situated 417.84 feet southerly from the intersection of said east line, with the southwest line of Highland road; thence running southeasterly by a curve to the left of 20 feet radius, for a distance of 33.91 feet; thence running north $83^{\circ} 36' 25''$ east 202.56 feet; thence curving to the left with a radius 240 feet 203.16 feet; thence curving to the left with a radius 202 feet 65.99 feet; thence curving to the left with a radius of 20 feet 36.20 feet to the southwest side of Highland road; thence running southeasterly along the said southwest line of said Highland road by a curve to the left of 260.50 feet radius for 188.20 feet; thence running south $51^{\circ} 17' 35''$ west 23.64 feet; thence curving to the left with a radius of 595 feet 168.09 feet; thence running south $35^{\circ} 6' 25''$ west 33.99 feet; thence curving to the right with a radius of 280 feet 237.02 feet; thence running south $83^{\circ} 36' 25''$ west 212.59 feet; thence curving to the left with a radius of 20 feet 28.92 feet to the above-mentioned east side of Jamaica road; thence running northerly by the said east line of said Jamaica road 80.62 feet to the point of beginning. The road is to have a uniform width of forty (40) feet, except near its junction with Jamaica road and Highland road, where the corners are curved as shown on the location plan. The area of land covered by the street is 24,700 square feet, all of which is taken from the Brookline Land Company.

The location of said Spring road is in accordance with a plan and profile of the same made by French & Bryant, civil engineers, dated December 14, 1895, approved by us, verified by our signatures, and adopted as a part of this record.

We also take the right to support said road by sloping the banks upon the land of abutting owners; but this is not intended to affect or impair at all the right of any owner of such adjoining land to use such slopes for building, or any other purpose or use whatsoever, incident to the ownership of the fee in said slopes, that will not impair the security of the road-bed.

No awards are made. The owners of the fee of the land over which said road is laid out, in consideration of the laying out by the Selectmen and its acceptance by the town, waive all claims to land, grade or other damages.

And said road so laid out, located and described, is hereby reported to the town for acceptance, and when so accepted, allowed and recorded, is to be known as a townway called Spring road.

The road having been constructed by the Brookline Land Company is open to the public for travel.

$200,461

By operation of the sinking fund $90,000 of 6 per cent Playground bonds, issued in 1871, will be extinguished July 1st, 1896.

It will be necessary to appropriate at least $70,000 for the sinking fund this year, and from $70,000 to $75,000 next year. After that, little or nothing is to be paid into the sinking fund, as nearly all of our sinking fund debt matures and will be paid off during the fiscal year 1897-8. At present there is an annual charge for the sinking fund and for interest on the bonds secured by the sinking fund, considerably in excess of $100,000, a charge which will cease after next year.

It is to be noticed that while we have this year borrowed $249,000, and paid off only $169,611, our actual debt is but little larger than before, owing to the increase of the sinking fund. When, however, we are relieved of this annual charge of $100,000 it will become necessary, in order to avoid an increase in our actual debt, to borrow in any year no more than we pay off. It is plain, therefore, that in the future a much larger proportion of our exceptional expenditures can and ought to be met from current taxes than has been the case in the past. Obviously, also, if the amounts annually borrowed and paid off are approximately equal, a saving in interest charges can be made by borrowing for short periods rather than long ones.

The valuation of the real and personal estate in Brookline this year is $59,002,600, as compared with $57,191,150 last year. Our borrowing capacity, under the municipal indebtedness act, is still about $425,000.

State, County and Metropolitan Taxes.

These taxes amounted to $105,196.24 in 1895. The whole State tax this year will probably be $1,500,000, the same as last year. Brookline's proportion of this is $35,685.

The County tax recommended by the County Commissioners this year is $132,000. Last year it was $160,000. Brookline's share of a tax of $132,000 amounts to $46,967.99.

A new apportionment of the expenses of the Metropolitan sewerage system is to be made this year, and it is hoped that Brookline's proportion may be reduced. The interest and sinking fund charges are now apportioned among the different cities and towns according to their respective valuations. If no change of principle is made, $15,000 may be required to pay this tax this year.

An apportionment of the Metropolitan Park expenses has been made by commissioners appointed for the purpose, but an appeal is pending in the Supreme Court. The commissioners' award is based upon population, valuation and special benefits, and requires Brookline to pay .03773741 of the Park expenses, and .01988327 of one-half of the Boulevard expenses. The State pays the other half of the Boulevard expenses. Brookline pays .02379 of the State tax. The amount required for this tax cannot yet be accurately calculated, but unless new loans are authorized by the present Legislature, it should not exceed $5,000 this year.

Appropriations.

The annual appropriations recommended in the following table, together with the two special appropriations already proposed to be paid from this year's taxes and receipts, amount to $962,798.99, compared with total charges against the taxes and receipts of 1895 and 1894, of $950,465.85 and $974,624.13, respectively.

The size of this amount taken in connection with the probable receipts makes it necessary that every appropriation asked for be very carefully scrutinized. In any case, the probabilities are that the tax rate will have to be considerably increased.

The net expenditures from all sources, after deducting payments to sinking fund and for maturing debt, have been $952,921.26, as compared with $1,016,783.66 in 1894-5.

New Streets and Street Widenings.

The usual table of new streets laid out and accepted during the year, will be found in the report of the Town Engineer. For the condition of the work upon such streets as have been, or are to be, constructed by the town, reference is made to the report of the Superintendent of Streets. The matter of a plan for main roadways and drainage lines in such parts of the town as are not now well provided with them, has been placed in the hands of Messrs. Olmsted, Olmsted and Eliot. We are awaiting their report.

Highway Department.

The large amount of work performed by this department during the year is very fully and clearly described in the excellent report of the Superintendent of Streets. The cost of caring for the streets of the town is sure to become larger with the increase of street mileage, but it is of the highest importance that the streets should be kept in good condition. It cannot be too often repeated that the use of the best materials in street construction is true economy. A modern stable must be built before long on the Nahum Smith land, and will undoubtedly be a good investment for the town. Application has been made to the State Highway Commission for a steam roller, according to the provisions of Chapter 495 of the Acts of 1895, and the vote of the town passed October 24th, 1895. In spite of the express provisions of the Statute, the State Commissioners have refused to furnish a steam roller, giving as an excuse that all the money in their hands has been "allotted" to other purposes.

Street Railways.

The inaugural address of Governor Greenhalge contains the following statement :

"With the rapid growth of street railways arises the question of the best and most reasonable method of protecting the public interest whenever public authority is invoked to confer powers and privileges. Intelligent and conservative opinion will, I think, be found to strongly favor giving authority to towns and cities to grant charters to street railway companies and kindred organizations, upon such terms and conditions as shall secure the full and just rights of the public, while not unduly limiting or curtailing the opportunities of investors. Contracts between a municipality and a street railway, based upon principles of justice and fairness, would give security to both the public and the railway company."

In Brookline, locations for street railways mean street widenings, but as locations confer no rights upon railway corporations which cannot be revoked, the railway companies are naturally unwilling to contribute to the expense of making the street suitable for their use. As the right of revocation has not proved a very valuable one, it would seem to be for the interest of municipalities, and would undoubtedly be of advantage to corporations, that contracts of a more or less permanent character should be made upon adequate consideration, and it is consequently to be hoped that the thoughtful suggestion of the Governor may in due time bear fruit.

Sewers.

The amount of the general sewer appropriation for the past year was $30,000; the amount spent, less receipts of $52.92, was $24,715.23; balance unexpended, $5,284.77; amount of sewer assessments levied, $25,160.89.

To complete the sewer construction now under contract, and provide for such additional sewers as may be needed in the various streets and ways of the town, an appropriation of $25,000 is recommended.

The laying of a water-main in Walnut street by the Boston Water Board, necessitated the laying of a new sewer on the southerly side of the street, from the sewer in Washington street at the foot of Walnut street to a point about 170 feet west of Walnut place. This work has been done at the request of the Boston Water Board, under the direction of the Town Engineer, and the cost charged to the appropriation for sewers, the city of Boston having agreed to reimburse the town for the outlay.

The report of the Town Engineer gives the details of the sewer construction for the year, and also the work done and to be done on the brook channels and sewers which have been laid out, accepted, and contracted for during the year.

Petitions are now before the board for the improving of nearly all the brooks in the town, and while it is certain that this work cannot, on account of its great cost, all be done at once, something should be done this year.

That portion of the Village Brook, so called, from the end of the covered channel to Cypress street should be laid out and constructed this coming summer. The estimated cost of construction for this part of the brook is $55,000.

Poles and Wires.

The attractiveness of our streets is much lessened by the number and size of the various kinds of poles in use for carrying wires. All kinds of wires must in time be placed under ground. There are no telegraph poles in Brookline, except along the line of the Boston and Albany railroad. The telephone wires are being put under ground in the most thickly settled parts of the town, and some progress has been made in the work of burying the town's own wires. The arrangement mentioned in last year's report for laying a piece of underground cable on Carlton street to reach an electric-light post has been carried out, and a similar arrangement has been made with public-spirited citizens of Gardner road. The Brookline Gas Light Company is not willing to allow more than the cost of overhead wiring, towards the expense of such work. If any new contract should ever be made with this company, careful provision should be made for underground wiring. The West End Street Railway Company has shown no disposition to put any of its wires under ground.

Street Lights.

We are still paying forty cents per night per light for electric arc lights, and seven cents for oil lights. We now pay for gas at the rate of one dollar per thousand feet, and pay also for the lighting and care of lamps, the work being done under the supervision of the Superintendent of Lights. There are still a number of unsettled claims between the town and the Brookline Gas Company. The Selectmen expect to be able to report at the annual meeting, upon the street lighting matters referred to them at the town meeting of October 24th, 1895. The number and character of lights, reported in use on February 1st for the last five years, is as follows :

	1892.	1893.	1894.	1895.	1896.
Electric	150	178	212	228	236
Gas	248	251	241	221	220
Oil	100	103	101	101	116

The cost of maintaining the existing lights through the year at present prices will be about $42,750, and if no change of system or price is made an appropriation of $45,000 will be required, allowing for some new lights and incidental expenses.

Police Department.

Perhaps we cannot do better than to repeat the statement made in the Annual Report of last year,—“This department has maintained a satisfactory degree of efficiency.” The report of the Chief of Police is so complete as to convey full information. We invite the careful consideration of the citizens to its suggestions and recommendations, and ask special attention to that portion of the report which relates to the increase of the force, so as to provide for four more routes. This will require eight additional patrolmen. The cost of this increase will be about $8,000 for the first year. It has also been suggested to the board that the pay of lieutenants, which now is $3.50 per day, be increased to $1,400 annually; and that of sergeants, now $3.25 per day, be increased to $1,300 annually. The pay of these officers in Boston is now $1,600 and $1,400 respectively. If this increase of pay is made, it will necessitate an addition of about $1,000 to the appropriation. The board recommends that these subjects be considered by the committee of citizens on the articles in the warrant. During the past year, for the first time, appointments to the police force of the town have been made in accordance with civil service rules.

Five of such appointments have been made. Three of these were made to supply additions to the force, authorized by the vote of the town at the last annual meeting, one to fill a vacancy caused by resignation, and one to fill a vacancy caused by promotion.

Fire Department.

The apparatus is in good condition, but the buildings will need repair during the present year, as will be seen by reference to the report of the Fire Engineers. The department is efficient, and has rendered good service during the past year. Reference is made to the report of the Fire Engineers for the particulars of service performed by the department and the other details respecting it.

Fire Alarm and Police Telegraph.

A special appropriation of $1500 was made last year to pay the cost of putting some of the town's wires underground in the spaces reserved in the telephone company's conduits. A considerable amount of this work has been done and has resulted in a material reduction in the cost of repairs, as well as in better service. An additional appropriation of $1500 is asked for this year, for continuing this work. Full details of the locations of these wires will be found in the report of the Superintendent of Wires. The regular work of maintaining the system this year will cost for salaries (exclusive of the salary of the Superintendent of Wires), supplies, repairs and incidentals, about $2,750. A new table and switchboard has been ordered at an expense of about $200, to replace the old one which has been outgrown. The balance of the appropriation is sufficient to pay for this, but as the table has not yet been put in, the bill has not been paid, and the amount has been added to this year's appropriation. The substitution of a storage battery for the present gravity battery, at a cost of $500, is recommended, chiefly on the ground of economy in the expense of operation, but also on the ground of efficiency. Seven new fire-alarm boxes are asked for by the School Committee, and two new police boxes are urged by the police department. These will cost $825.

The work done by the Superintendent of Wires in supervising the construction of wires in buildings, under the by-law adopted last year, is described in his report.

Bath-house.

The old bath-house on Boylston street having outlived its usefulness, we recommend that no further appropriation be made for its maintenance. The whole number of persons who have used it the past season is somewhat in excess of 5200.

Guide-boards.

The guide-boards heretofore reported are still maintained, and in our opinion are sufficient for the present.

Legislation.

At the last annual meeting the Selectmen were authorized to urge certain amendments to the Metropolitan Water Bill then pending in the Legislature. (See page 17.) Brookline was omitted from the Metropolitan water district in the act as finally passed. The act contains a provision that the Metropolitan Water Board "shall, on application, admit any other city or town, any part of which is within ten miles of the State House, into said water district, and furnish water to the same on the terms prescribed by this act for the cities and towns aforesaid, and on such payment of money as said board may determine." There is also a provision that the board "may carry and conduct any aqueduct, conduit, pipe, drain or wire under or over any water course, or any railroad, street or other way, in such a manner as not unnecessarily to obstruct or impede travel thereon; may dig up any such road, street or way, and lay, maintain and repair aqueducts, conduits, pipes, wires and other works beneath the surface thereof, conforming to any reasonable regulations made by the mayor and aldermen of cities and the selectmen of towns, respectively, wherein such works are performed, and restoring, so far as practicable, any such road, street or way, to as good order and condition as the same was in when such digging was commenced."

Selectmen of Brookline.

REPORT ON SUITS TO WHICH THE TOWN IS A PARTY.

HORACE JAMES, ESQ.,

Chairman Board of Selectmen :—

DEAR SIR :— We report as follows, concerning the suits we have had charge of for the town :—

First.

James McDonnell vs. Brookline.

No action has been taken by the plaintiff in this case, and we have nothing to add to our last report.

Second.

Mary E. Corbett et al. vs. Brookline.

Daniel A. Lynch vs. Brookline.

Petitions for assessment of land damages, for land taken for the extension of the town's water supply.

As stated in our last report, we hoped to be able to make a settlement of these cases, but the petitioners have not been willing to mention any sum which they would accept, and seemed to be determined to have a trial.

We accordingly agreed upon Messrs. George William Estabrook, Richard M. Saltonstall and Lewis G. Farmer as commissioners under the statute, to hear the cases. The commissioners and counsel for both sides have viewed the land, and the evidence will soon be submitted to the commissioners.

Third.

Calvin W. Capen vs. Brookline.

This was a petition for a jury to assess damages for land taken for the water supply. After full conferences with the Selectmen and with Mr. Mowry of the Water Board, this case was settled by the payment of $1,000. The land taken comprised about five acres, situated in Dedham.

Fourth.

George W. Chamberlain vs. Brookline.

Petition for a jury to assess damages for land taken for the water supply.

Part of the land taken from Mr. Chamberlain lay in Boston, and part in Dedham. The whole amount of land taken was about $73\frac{1}{2}$ arces, and the case was settled by the payment of \$18,125. A deed conveying the absolute title to the town was taken in this case, and in the Capen case, and in the settlement of both cases we were very much aided by Mr. Mowry of the Water Board.

Fifth.

Lizzie J. Lithgow vs. Brookline.

Francis B. Toppan vs. Brookline.

These were two actions for damages growing out of an accident which happened while the plaintiffs were driving on Essex street, in Longwood, on a dark night, when the street lights were not burning. The plaintiffs' carriage came in contact with a hydrant, and one of the plaintiffs was thrown out of the carriage. The action of the other plaintiff was to recover damages for injury to his carriage and harness.

In the first of these cases, judgment was entered for the defendant, the plaintiff abandoning the suit.

In the second, the plaintiff agreed to abandon the suit on payment of the costs, which amounted to $27.63, and the case was disposed of upon this basis.

Sixth.

Henry P. Nawn vs. Brookline.

This is an action of contract, brought to recover about $13,000, which the plaintiff, who was the contractor for the macadamizing of the roads and walks of the Brookline part of the Riverdale Park, says he was obliged to expend in doing work which was not called for by his contract, and which would not have been necessary but for the failure of the town to do its part of the work properly.

The case has been referred to Hon. Edmund H. Bennett, as auditor, and the time for the first hearing has been fixed.

Seventh.

H. G. Jordan & Co. vs. Brookline.

This was a petition for damages, brought by the lessees of Hugh and James Rooney, owners of land taken for the widening of Washington street.

The said owners of the land were made parties to the suit. The Selectmen awarded the owners and lessees together $1,500, for land taken and incidental damages. We settled the case by the payment of $1,800, being $300 more than the Selectmen's award.

Eighth.

Free Hospital for Women vs. Brookline.

This was an action to recover a tax assessed upon the plaintiff by the Assessors of the town. The question at issue was mainly a question of law. The plaintiff claimed exemption on the ground that it was a charitable institution, and the Assessors claimed that the plaintiff was liable for this tax upon its real estate in Brookline, for the reason that it bought its land on Pond avenue for the purpose of removing thereto, but did not actually move in within two years of the time of its purchase, as required by law.

The case was argued before Judge Braley of the Superior Court on an agreed statement of facts. The court found for the defendant, and judgment was entered on this finding in favor of the town.

Ninth.

James Marley vs. Brookline.

This was an action of tort, for injuries alleged to have been sustained by the plaintiff, while at work for the town on a quarry on Washington street, Brighton.

The plaintiff, while working with a pick on a pile of ledge chips, struck some explosive substance which caused the stones to fly, and one of his eyes was so severely injured that it had to be removed.

While we had very grave doubts whether the town was legally liable in this action, we deemed it best, after consultation with your board, to settle the case. The plaintiff was paid $1,300, and proper entry, discharging the town, was made on the docket of the court.

Tenth.

James H. Beals vs. Brookline.

This was a petition brought to recover damages for the taking of 7,362 square feet of land, in the course of the widening of Harvard street, and for damages to the petitioner's remaining land.

The award of the Selectmen was $2,208.60. The case was tried last May before Judge Braley and a jury, in the Superior Court at Dedham, and resulted in a verdict for the petitioner for $4,286.

Counsel for the town thereupon filed a motion for a new trial, which was argued, and Judge Braley made an order that unless the petitioner would remit all damages awarded by the jury in excess of $2,700, a new trial should be granted. The petitioner refused to remit, and thereupon a second trial of the case was had last October, in the Superior Court, before Judge Sheldon and a jury. This trial resulted in a verdict for the petitioner for $3,976.09.

The Selectmen and counsel for the town being of the opinion that this award was excessive, a motion for a new trial was made before Judge Sheldon. This motion was overruled.

The plaintiff's costs in the case amounted to $90.08, and the interest on the verdict was $27.83, making a total of $4,094. This sum has been paid the plaintiff, and the proper entry has been made in court.

Eleventh.

Mary Miskell et. al. vs. Brookline.

This is a petition brought to recover damages for land taken for the widening of Washington street.

We expected to try this case at the present sitting of the court in Dedham, but one of the petitioners died last month, which made it necessary to postpone the trial until the next term of the court in May.

Twelfth.

Annie Boyce vs. Brookline.

This was an action of tort to recover damages for injuries alleged to have been received by the plaintiff, by falling on the sidewalk on Aspinwall avenue.

The case was tried at the present term of the Superior Court in Dedham. At the trial it appeared that the plaintiff, while walking on the sidewalk on Aspinwall avenue, between the bridge over the railroad and Brookline avenue, slipped and fell, sustaining a fracture of her left arm near the wrist.

Owing to the foresight of Mr. Driscoll and Mr. French, who went to view the place of the accident as soon as they received notice of it, and within a few days after it happened, the town was enabled to lay before the jury, two photographs which showed that at the place where the plaintiff was said to have fallen, there was a track at least two and one-half feet wide, where the ground was absolutely free from ice or snow.

We were also able to show that the weather and the temperature had been such between the time of the accident and the time when the photographs were taken, as to warrant the jury in believing that the photographs were a true representation of the state of the sidewalk at the time when the accident happened.

The jury returned a verdict in favor of the town.

Thirteenth.

Patrick Tonra vs. Brookline.

This is an action of tort, brought to recover damages for injuries which the plaintiff is alleged to have sustained while he was at work on a sewer of the town on Naples road.

This case was upon the trial list at the present term of the Superior Court, but was not reached, and cannot now be tried until the May term.

Fourteenth.

Mary W. Gardner vs. Brookline.

This is a petition brought to recover damages for land taken by the town for the extension of its water supply.

In this case we have agreed upon the following gentlemen as commissioners: Messrs. George William Estabrook, Hiram P. Harriman and Joseph B. Warner. No hearings have yet been had.

Fifteenth.

Cassius Clay Powers vs. Brookline.

This is an action of contract, brought to recover a sewer assessment levied on the petitioner's land on University road, and paid by him, as he alleges, under protest. This case has not yet come up for trial.

Sixteenth.

Town of Brookline by its Board of Selectmen, vs. Henry S. Hatch.

This is a bill in equity, brought by us under the instructions of your board, to restrain the defendant from stabling more than four horses on his premises on Aspinwall avenue.

Mr. Hatch applied to the board for a license to enable him to keep more than four horses in his stable on Aspinwall avenue. A hearing was had, at which a number of persons living in the neighborhood objected to the granting of the license, and the board, after a hearing, voted that the petitioner have leave to withdraw.

Thereupon Mr. Hatch divided into two buildings, a building which had been erected upon the back part of his lot, behind his principal stable, fitted with stalls the two buildings thus made out of one, and proceeded to keep upon the lot of land eleven horses, so disposed that four was the greatest number actually stabled over night in any one of the three buildings.

The board was of the opinion that this action of Mr. Hatch was a mere evasion of the statute (P. S. Ch. 102, § 39, as amended by St. 1890, Ch. 395), which prohibits the use of any building or place as a stable for more than four horses in any town, without a license from the Selectmen, and instructed us to proceed in equity for an injunction.

The case was heard before Mr. Justice Morton of the Supreme Judicial Court, and an injunction was granted.

The defendant has appealed to the full bench, where the case will probably be heard next month.

Yours very truly,

M. & C. A. WILLIAMS.

The outlying streets of this route are also policed by Patrolman Crory on the third division.

Route No. 9 includes the territory bounded by St. Paul street, Beacon street, Winchester street, and the town line; and is patrolled by Patrolmen Sullivan and Dugan on the first and third divisions, and by Patrolmen Piper on the second division.

Each division is superintended by a sergeant. The second division is in charge of Sergeant Corey, and the first and third divisions are in charge of Sergeants O'Connell and Mealy.

Having a Sergeant on active duty on the streets in charge of each division has very much increased the value and efficiency of the service. Lieutenants Dearborn and Bartlett are in charge of the station on the first and third divisions alternately, at night.

IN MEMORIAM.

LIEUTENANT CHARLES B. MCCausland of this force died Sunday, Nov. 17th, 1895.

Lieutenant McCausland was born at Winslow, Me., 55 years ago. He came to Brookline when a boy, and enlisted in the First Massachusetts volunteers early in 1861. He was severely wounded at the battle of Fredericksburg, rendering him unfit for further service in the field. Mr. McCausland was appointed a patrolman November, 1875, and was promoted to a sergeantcy May, 1879. In 1893, Sergt. McCausland was promoted to the office of Lieutenant of Police. February 3d, 1879, the following vote was passed by the Board of Selectmen :

Voted—“That the thanks of the Board be transmitted through the Chief of Police to officer Charles B. McCausland, for the bravery, skill, and presence of mind displayed by him in pursuing and stopping runaway horses on the streets of the town, during the late sleighing season, by which action lives were undoubtedly saved.”

Lieutenant McCausland was an able and valuable officer, prompt and fearless in the discharge of every duty, ready and willing at all times to do his full duty. Lieutenant McCausland had been just twenty years in the Police Department of the town at the time of his death.

There has been a less number of the genus tramp among those applying for lodgings than in former years. Many of them were semi-respectable in dress and general appearance, while others had the unmistakable evidence of the real tramp,—fit subjects for the work-house, who should by some means be compelled to earn their living.

There have been but few well authenticated cases of violation of the liquor laws, the past year. Several seizures have been made from so-called kitchen barrooms. In most of these cases the evidence was insufficient to secure a conviction. The several licensed druggists, so far as I have been able to ascertain, have conducted their business in a legal manner. The number of arrests for drunkenness has been less than last year.

Our electric (Gamewell) police signal system continues, as before, a very important factor in our police system, under Supt. Davis's careful charge. I recommend two additional patrol boxes the present year, one to be located on Clyde street near Newton street, and one on Washington street, at or near Winthrop path.

The mounted service continues to be an important part of our police system. During the driving season, on the Boulevard and the Riverdale Park, mounted officers are an important factor of the service; also in patrolling the streets in the south part of the town,—the outlying districts.

Police Routes Recommended.

I respectfully suggest and recommend that the several police routes of the first and third divisions be made smaller by dividing the old routes, and adding four new police routes, as indicated roughly on the accompanying map. I suggest this for the two night divisions only; leaving the second or day division as it now is. This would require eight additional patrolmen. The territory in the south part of the town not embraced in the police routes indicated on the map is looked after almost entirely by mounted officers.

Police district No. 14, Boston (the old town of Brighton), has forty-eight officers, all told, and four horses. The Jamaica Plain district No. 13, Boston, has seventy-five officers, all told, and five horses. The former rural character of the town is rapidly disappearing with the large increase in new roads and streets, and new houses. Some sections where but a year or two since the natural condition of woods and hills prevailed, are now nearly covered by new streets and houses.

The several lines of street railways, carrying thousands of people daily in summer time, the easy and rapid means of travel through the town from the large city on our borders, the boulevards and parkways through the town and along our borders, all tend to a condition of things requiring police supervision formerly but little known.

Night Routes Recommended, as Indicated on Map.

Route No. 12.—Boylston street from Chestnut Hill avenue to Wright's Hill, Reservoir lane, Heath Hill, Warren and Dudley streets, Cottage street, Goddard avenue, Clyde and Newton streets, Heath street to Walter Cabot's.

Route No. 13.—Boylston street from Wright's Hill to town line, Heath street from Route 12 to town line, Woodland road, Hammond street, and all streets between Boylston street and Newton line, Norfolk road district.

There have been several cases of house-breaking and larceny in the last two months; in two cases the losses have been large, evidently the work of expert burglars. With these exceptions no very serious offenses have been committed the past year.

As in former years the special or detective work of the department has been done mostly by the Inspector of Police, whose services have been valuable in many directions.

The brave and prompt action of Patrolman Curry in saving a lady and a child from being run down by a runaway horse on Beacon street during the late sleighing season, is worthy of special mention.

From our peculiar situation, nearly surrounded by a large city, and with the many lines of street railway, we are exposed to many trespasses and many annoyances of a minor nature, requiring constant vigilance.

I realize with much satisfaction that a new and much needed police station is an event of the near future.

There has been but little if any friction in this department the past year. Every member of the force has seemed willing and anxious to do his whole duty, so far as his individual capacity would admit.

We have (thanks to the Police Committee) a well-equipped department. The recent changes in our police ambulance makes it second to none in the country, and all other equipments are in first-class order.

I am under obligations to the Board of Selectmen and Police Committee for strong support during the year, and to the Engineers of the Fire Department for many courtesies received. The earnest efforts of the members of the force to aid me in the discharge of the duties of the office are fully appreciated.

In closing my report I deem it proper to say that we have a well-disciplined police force, that will, I believe, in physique and all that goes to make an efficient police department, compare favorably with any police department in the Commonwealth.

I am, gentlemen, respectfully yours,

ALONZO BOWMAN,

Chief of Police.

Two of the horses were replaced by younger ones, and two others were bought; one horse has died. We have now twenty-one work horses, and one driving horse. The Superintendent and his assistant each furnish a driving horse, which are boarded at the town stable, making the whole number, kept at the expense of the Highway department, twenty-four. Seven of these horses are kept in the old barn on the Nahum Smith lot on Harvard street; the building is quite dilapidated, and I would suggest that plans and estimates of the cost of a suitable stable to be erected on this lot be procured. All the watering carts, carts, sleds, snow ploughs, etc., have been put in good condition, and painted during the past year in the blacksmith shop which was set up in the old schoolhouse last winter. The tools were put in order, the picks resteeled, and the watering carts are now being put in readiness for the next season. It will be unnecessary to keep the shop open during the coming season, but enough work can be had for the blacksmith at the stone-crushing ledge.

A ledge lot, on the corner of Washington street and Commonwealth avenue, in the Brighton district, has been leased from the Westminster Land Company for one year from the 21st day of August, 1895, with the right of renewal for two years longer at the same price, to wit: twenty cents for each cubic yard of stone removed, measured in the ledge. A new and complete crushing plant has been erected, and we are now engaged in preparing material for the work of the coming season. Formerly in locating a crushing plant, it was deemed necessary to set the crusher on the side of a hill, or on some elevation, and the stones had to be carted up the grade to it. If the height was sufficient, storage bins were built under the screens; if, as was more often the case, it was not high enough, the broken stone had to be carted to a spoil bank, from which it was shovelled into the carts. Each additional handling added nearly ten cents a ton to the cost. With our old plant it was necessary to have three teams constantly while crushing. With our new arrangement the stone, after being quarried and broken to a suitable size, is loaded into cars of about one-half cubic yard capacity, and by means of an automatic dump, is delivered on the platform immediately in front of the crusher which is located below the grade. After being broken in the machine the stone falls into buckets, fastened to a belt which carries it to the screen, which is placed at any desired height. All stones which are too large to pass through the holes in the screen, are brought in a spout back to the crusher to be again broken. The stone is separated by the screen into three sizes, and falls into bins having a capacity of one hundred and fifty tons. Slides in the bottom of the bins, operated by a lever at the side, allow the broken stone to fall into the carts; there is no handling of the stone from the time it is thrown into the crusher until it is spread on the street. But as it is desirable for many reasons to have a supply on hand, slides have been placed in the sides of the bins, so that when they are full the crusher need not be stopped, and several hundred tons of stone can be stored outside.

The guide-boards numbered from 1 to 78, mentioned in the reports for the years 1885-'86-'89-'92 and '93, are maintained, and seem to be all that are required. Most of them have been repainted during the year. In many places the street signs are broken as fast as we put them up, and iron signs fare as badly as wooden ones.

The Longwood-avenue bridge was practically rebuilt last spring and is in good condition. Nothing has been done on the Washington-street bridge, except to repair the asphalt covering.

The condition of Beacon street was very much improved by breaking off the tops of the foundation stones, and dressing with fine stone; this was done early in the season, and was intended to carry the road along till midsummer, when it was hoped that the long deferred work of resurfacing would be done. By that time, however, the owner of the land adjoining Mr. Learned's, where our crusher was located, decided not to have the stone on his land removed, and as that remaining on Mr. Learned's land was limited in quantity and inferior in quality, the work was postponed. The lease of the Westminster lot was not signed, and the crusher ready for work, until it was too late to be available for this season. There is nothing to prevent the work being done early in the coming season, unless it be the occupancy of the street by the Metropolitan Water Board for the purpose of laying two forty-eight-inch main pipes; I learn from their engineer that they contemplate laying both mains in the bridle path from Chestnut Hill avenue to the hill east of Washington street; from there the northerly pipe will be continued in the bridle path, crossing at Winchester street, and going by way of Winchester or Center street and Harvard street to Allston; the other pipe will be laid in the southerly roadway, far enough out to clear the catch-basins, and will cross to the northerly roadway east of Harvard street, going by way of St. Paul street to Cambridge. They intend to begin in April, and it may be well for us to let them get out of the way before beginning our work.

The city of Boston has occupied our streets a good deal this past summer, having laid a forty-eight-inch main in Washington street from the town line to Walnut street, in the whole of Walnut street, and in Boylston street from Walnut street to Fisher avenue. Our citizens were subjected to much inconvenience during the progress of the work, which we were powerless to prevent. The city has laid large pipes through our streets in the past, and has always shown a desire to do the work in a most thorough manner, and at as little inconvenience to the abutters as possible. In this case, however, there was good reason for complaint, particularly on Walnut street, which was closed to travel for an unnecessarily long time. Perhaps it was owing to the fact that, for the first time to my knowledge, the work was done by contract, and that the town agreed to take care of the surplus material. All the material remaining on Washington street, and on Walnut street, from Washington street to the entrance to the Bowditch estate, was used by the town, the poorer being used for filling around the new High School, and in the brook along the railroad; the good material was used in repairing streets, and the stone was carted to the stable yard, and will be used this spring in surfacing Chestnut street and Clark road in the Kennard estate. The surplus in front of the Bowditch estate, and that on Boylston street, not being needed, was given to parties who removed it without expense. The city has authorized us to put Boylston street in better condition at their expense, and will doubtless compensate us for any outlay we may have to make on Walnut and Washington streets in consequence of their operations.

Chapter 486 of the Acts of 1895, provides that when certain towns vote at a town meeting to expend not less than $3,000 per year for the term of five years, for macadamized roads, they shall be furnished by the Commonwealth, free of charge, a steam road-roller. The Massachusetts Highway Commission, through which the rollers were to be supplied, was limited to an expenditure of $9,000 during the year 1895, and it is very probable that the act will be repealed or amended at the present session of the Legislature. To comply with the requirements of the act the town passed the following vote at the town meeting held October 24, 1895 :

Voted, To expend not less than three thousand dollars per year, each year for the term of five years, for macadamized roads.

An application for the roller has been made to the Highway Commission.

New Streets and Special Appropriations.

ST. MARY STREET, between Ivy street and Commonwealth avenue, was laid out and accepted as a public way at the annual town meeting. Nothing has been done on it this year.

KEIFFER ROAD was accepted as a public way at the meeting held October 24, 1895. It was put in fair condition by the owner, and has cost the town nothing.

DEAN ROAD AND DRUCE STREET. These roads were accepted as public ways in 1891. Since then the owners have extended Dean road to Fisher avenue, and Druce street to Clinton road, and offered both to the town free of charge. They were accepted as public ways at the meeting of October 24, 1895. The sewers and surface-water drains were paid for by the town, and the usual sewer assessments were levied.

KILSYTH ROAD AND WINDSOR ROAD. By the change in the town line last year, short pieces of each of these roads, which were formerly private ways in Boston, were thrown into Brookline; they were accepted as public ways at the meeting of October 24, 1895, and nothing has been expended on them.

WEBSTER STREET was laid out under the betterment law, and accepted as a public way at the town meeting held October 24, 1895. It was constructed by the town with edgestones, concrete sidewalks and macadamized roadway. To save a row of trees in front of Mr. Pierce's land, the southerly sidewalk was made wide enough to allow of a tree lawn. The cost of construction, exclusive of land damage, was $2,359.82; the award of land damages was $2,969.00.

CHESTNUT STREET AND CLARK ROAD extensions together form a continuous road between Walnut and Boylston streets, through the land of Mr. M. P. Kennard. It was laid out and accepted as a public way at the meeting of October 24, 1895. Mr. Kennard agreed to give the land and build the street to sub-grade; the town is to finish the road with gravel sidewalks, tree lawns, a plank walk on one side, paved gutters and macadamized roadway, and an appropriation of $3,000 was made. Some work, costing $699.84, has been done. The finishing of the road will begin as soon as the frost is out of the ground.

GLEN ROAD extension is a street between Cumberland avenue and Allerton street, which was built by the Brookline Land Company, and offered to the town, free of cost. It was accepted at the meeting of January 30, 1896.

SPRING ROAD, between Highland and Jamaica roads, was built by the Brookline Land Company, and offered to the town free of cost. It was accepted at the meeting, Jan. 30, 1896.

Special Appropriations.

WESTBOURNE TERRACE AND BARTLETT CRESCENT. The sum of $900 was paid by the late Mr. E. D. Jordan for the purpose of putting these roads in proper condition. The work is not finished, and the balance of $528.03 can be well expended during the coming season.

WIDENING HARVARD STREET. That part of the street which was formerly in Boston has been finished, and circular edgestones with flagstone crossings have been laid at the entrances to the new streets on the Babcock Hill territory. The construction of these streets necessitates a change in the line of some of the cross-walks laid in Harvard street last year.

WIDENING WASHINGTON STREET. A brick sidewalk was laid on the southerly side of this street from Morss avenue to Pond avenue, except in front of a small lot where the owner contemplated building, and the gutter was paved with granite blocks. The sidewalk on the northerly side is in bad condition and must be repaired this coming season, even if the edgestones are not reset, as was suggested by me last year.

IMPROVEMENT OF BOYLSTON STREET. The roadway between Hammond street and the town line was graded and macadamized and is now in good condition. The roadway west of Chestnut Hill avenue was underdrained, sub-graded and rebuilt in a thorough manner on the Telford principle. Some provision must be made for the surface water at the junction with Chestnut Hill avenue, and the sidewalk should be graded. The appropriation for both pieces of road was $5,000, and there is a balance of $941.65 unexpended.

STONE CRUSHING PLANT. Mention of this has already been made in connection with the lease of the ledge lot. A contract was made with Mr. A. J. Wellington, which provided for moving the crusher from Mr. Learned's lot to the new location and setting on the foundation provided by the town; supplying tracks and cars, elevator, screen, storage bins, thirty-horse-power boiler and twenty-horse-power engine with house, all set up complete, except the belt, and delivered under steam in good working order for $2,600. The additional slides cost $48. The town supplied the water and did all the grading and stone work. A blacksmith-shop, and a powder-house have been built, and the whole plant is in good working order and is well worthy of inspection. The total cost thus far has been $3,989.84. The blacksmith-shop is not yet equipped, and some additional grading is necessary.

Watering Streets.

The same number of teams, twenty-one, were employed in this work as last year, and the teams of the fire department continue to sprinkle limited sections near the houses. The balance of this appropriation unexpended is larger than usual, as very little day work was needed after the expiration of the contracts, and the additional team, which it was thought a year ago would be necessary, was not employed. Drivers of light vehicles and bicyclists complain that too much water is used at times, and say they prefer dust to mud. It seems almost impossible to be free from both, as the material at our command is not of the best, and is quickly ground into dust, which, when wet, becomes mud; this is the greatest objection to macadam roads, and is not peculiar to Brookline. Much improvement can be had, however, by requiring the contractors to keep their carts in good condition, and by a constant supervision, for which it may be necessary to employ an inspector, who shall ride a bicycle. The appropriation for watering streets was $17,000, and $16,109.41 was expended.

Sidewalks.

The kind and amount of work done on sidewalks is shown in the following table, which does not contain the small patching on brick and concrete walks, nor the repairs of plank walks. When plank walks have been rebuilt with old stock, the work has been considered in the nature of repairs, and is not included in the table:

In building new plank walks during the past season, hard pine lumber was used for the greater part. About equal quantities of vulcanized and untreated lumber were used; with the vulcanized lumber the bearings were of hard pine, and with the untreated lumber they were of cypress. So far as we have been able to judge, the vulcanized hard pine appears to be the best material for plank walks. A contract has been made for the delivery of sixty thousand feet, which will be needed early in the spring for renewals.

The appropriation for sidewalks was $17,000, and the expenditure, given in detail in the Treasurer's report, was as follows :—

Edgestones	$4,168 28
New concrete walks	3,832 33
Repairing concrete walks	1,754 11

Care of Sewers.

The usual work of caring for the sewers, catch-basins and drains was done at a cost of $4,212.63. The only serious trouble this year was on Thursday evening, February 6, 1896, when a very heavy rain-fall, with an unusually high tide, caused some of the sewers to back up and overflow through basement water-closets.

The siphons under the new brook channel in Pond avenue, Walter avenue and Washington street are troublesome affairs and need constant watching and frequent cleaning.

Extensive repairs must be made on the main sewer this year. The arch has been cracked for several years, in places, but the damage was not serious, and no repairs of any consequence seemed necessary. Recent examinations show a condition which must be attended to very soon.

Collecting Ashes.

The cost of collecting ashes and dry dirt throughout the town was $6,996.37, which includes the horse hire. The cost of this work increases yearly as the low places used for dumps become improved and built upon. A special effort is being made this winter to grade up the Longwood playground, so that it may be finished and used this coming year.

Public Grounds and Sundries.

The usual work on these grounds, which include the playgrounds, open areas and schoolhouse lots, was done at a cost of $1,196.08. An attempt was made to provide a skating place on the Cypress-street playground for the special benefit of the smaller children. It was only partially successful, but enough was accomplished to show how very popular the place would be. The chief difficulties are the uneven grading of the playground, and the high temperature (50°) at which the water leaves the hydrants. If a few hundred dollars were spent in grading, it would be possible to provide a safe and pleasant place for winter sport, and its use would not be confined to children alone.

The grounds of the new High School were graded by this department; the work is not quite finished, but it can be done in a short time in the spring.

The fountain bought last year was set up at the corner of Boylston street and Chestnut Hill avenue.

The bath-house, so called, was cleaned as usual, and sundry repairs were made; the whole costing $113.02.

Sundry work in connection with new sewers, amounting to $662, was done, and the expense was charged to the appropriation for sewers.

The work of this department in connection with the Chestnut-street brook amounted to $363.

Work was done on the main sewer overflow amounting to $622.49.

Sundry other work, amounting in the aggregate to $363.49, was done, and the cost was charged to the proper appropriations.

The customary schedule of property belonging to the department is on file at this office.

Respectfully submitted,

MICHAEL DRISCOLL,

Superintendent of Streets.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF WIRES AND LIGHTS.

BROOKLINE, Jan. 31, 1896.

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen:—

GENTLEMEN,—I have the honor to submit the seventh annual report of the fire-alarm and police telegraph.

Fire Alarm System.

The number of boxes connected and working in the fire-alarm circuit is thirty-eight, two having been added in May. A petition was received from residents of Osborne road and vicinity for a fire-alarm box, and one numbered 312 was placed at the corner of Abbotsford and Naples roads. The committee also approved the location of a box at the corner of St. Paul street and Sewell avenue, and No. 46 was placed there. Work was begun in February to run wires to reach the boxes of the above locations, as at this season the wires can be run and put in place better than when the foliage is thick. About three miles of wire was used, including lines for police boxes which are placed on the same poles with the fire alarm.

The School Committee recommend that seven new boxes be placed in or near the schools, the cost of which would be about $750.

Police Telegraph.

This system at present is giving good satisfaction. A new table has been purchased, with the view of increasing the system the coming year. The arrangement of the telephone system was changed in April, and we are now using the long-distance instruments, which is a great improvement over the old, and the rental is only one-third as much. Two new boxes were connected in May, one at the corner of Abbotsford and Naples roads, and one on Sewell street opposite Sewell place.

The time has arrived when the gravity battery must step aside and allow the storage battery a chance to show its powers. The Gamewell Fire Alarm and Police Telegraph Company are now using storage batteries in all new plants, and are changing over a great many old ones. The city of Lynn has had the storage battery in operation for four or five months, and the authorities speak of it in the highest terms. The city of Newton is changing its batteries and expects to have the new system in running order very soon. Not only will this battery give better satisfaction, but it will effect a great saving. The difference in maintenance for one cell per year is one dollar, the gravity battery costing $1.25, and the storage battery twenty-five cents. The cost of a new plant will be about $500, and allowing for the difference in maintenance, it will pay for itself in less than six years. I would respectfully recommend that this system be used for the police telegraph, and that an appropriation of $500 be asked for.

The Chief of Police in his report recommends that two new boxes be added this year,—one on Clyde street near Newton street, and one on Washington street, opposite Fairbanks street. Box 34, now on Beacon street, should be changed to a point nearer Summit avenue.

Inspection of Interior Wiring of Buildings.

This office was established the first of June, 1895. Notices were printed and sent to the different companies engaged in wiring houses for incandescent lights; since which time the department has inspected 94 houses where new work was being installed, and 14 where changes and additional lights were introduced. This seems to be an important branch of the wire department, and too much care cannot be exercised with regard to inspection. Nearly all new houses that are being built at a cost of eight thousand dollars and upward are wired for incandescent electric lights. If the increase in building of the present year is to be compared with that of the past, a great deal of time will have to be devoted to this work.

I would suggest that a new clause be inserted in the building laws, forbidding any wires being run until all pipes are placed in proper position, this to include gas, steam, sewer, water and furnace pipes. A number of defects found last year were caused by mechanics of the different branches, who placed the wires in a dangerous position. At the completion of the building it is difficult to locate the trouble. I would also suggest that the town by-law be so changed that a contractor who fails to comply with the rules and regulations for such work shall be subjected to a fine.

Street Lighting.

Lights in use April 1st:—

Arc lights	229 . . .	Added Dec. 1-Jan. 31, 3; total	232
$\frac{1}{2}$ arc incandescent lights	1		1
20 c. p. incandescent lights	2 . . .	Added Jan. 1	1; " 3
Gas lights	215 . . .	" Jan. 1	5; " 220
Naphtha lights	102 . . .	" Oct. 1	14; " 116

The subject of electric street lighting seems to be of great importance at present, but in view of the fact that a committee was appointed to investigate and report at the annual town meeting, I do not think it necessary to say anything at this time.

The number of gas lights remains about the same as last year, only five having been added. After the appointment of the Superintendent of Lights, at the suggestion of the Gas Company, the men employed to do the lighting were placed under the direction of the town officers. This does not affect the price per light, but divides the total expense, the Gas Company charging for gas consumed at one dollar per thousand feet. Four men are employed to light and extinguish the lights, and to attend to cleaning. The lighting is done under a schedule; cards being printed for each month, stating the number of hours during which the lights should burn. One man is also employed to attend to the setting of glass. The amount of wages paid to the four lighters per year is $1,920, and to the repairer $180, making a total of $2,100. The condition of the lanterns is very poor, and I would suggest to your committee that they be overhauled and repaired. The cost would be about one dollar per light. This work ought to be done, unless it is decided to use a different burner, in which case it would be well to use a lantern of another shape.

The number of naphtha lights has been increased the past year, the lights added being placed in the following locations: Twelve on Heath street, between Hammond street and the Newton line; six on Boylston street, between Hammond street and the Newton line; two on Hammond street, between Boylston street and the Newton line; one on Roberts street, near the corner of Sewell street. Six were removed from the village, three of which were replaced by gas lights. This change was made for two reasons, first to guard against complaints against the offensive odor, and second, in order to assemble all naphtha lights in a smaller territory, thus enabling the lighter to cover his route more quickly. The care and lighting is done under contract with the Globe Gas Lighting Company of Boston, the cost per night being seven cents per light.

Underground Work.

Last year your committee thought the time had arrived when wires should be placed under ground, and a special appropriation was made for such work. This work was begun in June, and at present we have both fire-alarm and police-signal wires running through the following streets: Harvard street from Kent street, thence through Aspinwall avenue; thence through Toxteth street; thence through Francis street; thence through Kent street; thence through Beacon street, and some three hundred feet north on St. Paul street; also, through Colchester street from Kent street; thence through Carlton street, crossing Beacon street, where they are then run on poles through private property to reach the boxes at the corner of Essex and Mountfort streets. Wire was ordered and received for Harvard street from Aspinwall avenue to and across Beacon street, and we are now waiting for a duct location. An effort was made to go through the same duct with the telephone cable, but after several ineffectual attempts to get rods through, it was decided to wait until spring, as the telephone company then expect to lay more ducts through the above street. The aerial wires abandoned, together with the arms, have been removed and will be used to extend lines for boxes to be connected beyond the underground wires.

Work on rearranging the remaining aerial wires will begin at once, in anticipation of placing more wires underground, which I would respectfully recommend be done this year. This would include the following streets: Washington street from Brookline avenue to Cypress street or beyond; High street from Boylston street to Cumberland avenue; Allerton and Irving streets to Maple street; Cypress street from Washington street to Walnut street. The appropriation needed for the work is the same as made last year, namely, $1,500. There remains to be laid in conduits now constructed wires to reach Boylston street via Davis avenue, Gorham avenue and Sumner roads, Washington street to Beacon street, Beacon street to Tappan street, and Fairbanks street from Washington street to Beacon street.

The total estimate for additions suggested, together with salary and maintenance, is $4,300; for underground and storage battery, $2,000.

Respectfully submitted,

E. N. DAVIS,

Supt. Wires and Lights.

New Streets.

The new streets laid out by the Selectmen and accepted by the town since the last annual report are shown in the appended table.

Sewers and Drains.

The appended table gives a list of the sewers and drains built or acquired by purchase during the past year.

The sewer and drain construction work has been done, as for several years past, by the town furnishing the materials and contracting for the labor, excepting in the cases of Dean road and Druce street, where the sewers and drains were acquired by purchase.

The Chestnut-street brook has been provided with a substantial brick channel, on the general plan outlined in my report of last year.

The abandoned open-brook channel along the railroad from near the Brookline railroad station to Muddy river has been filled up, and the main sewer overflow, which formerly discharged into it at Brook street, has been made to discharge into a channel which crosses the playground and connects with Muddy river. Catch-basins have been built to convey the surface water into the covered channels.

Reference was made in my last report to the necessity of early action in the matter of furnishing both house and surface drainage for the district of which Smelt brook is the natural outlet. This work is now in progress, the contractors being Messrs. M. J. O'Hearn and Patrick Grace.

In addition to the questions of surface drainage above mentioned, much time has been given to the proper solution of other problems of a similar nature, which must receive the attention of the town at an early day.

The largest problem of this nature is the Village brook, so called, which conveys through Brookline village the surface water from nearly 2,000 acres of territory, and which has for its principal outlet the open channel along the railroad from the Chestnut Hill railroad station to the village, where it discharges into the covered channel laid through Washington street and Morss avenue to Leverett pond.

An adequate channel for this water-course, extending from Leverett pond to a point 225 feet west of Washington street, was built in 1893. In 1870 the town built the open channel west of Cypress street for a distance of about 850 feet, and since that time it has been extended to a point about 130 feet west of Sumner road by private enterprise. If kept free from rubbish it is expected that this open channel will be adequate for several years to come.

The unimproved part of the water-course below Cypress street is rough, irregular and inadequate in size, crosses the Boston & Albany railroad twice, in both instances nearly at right angles, and altogether is as poorly adapted to the work imposed upon it during freshets as could be well conceived. As the lands in the upper part of the valley become improved, it is practically certain that the freshets will be several times in extent what they are at present, so that the question resolves itself into either improving the water-courses in the lower part of the valley, or of preventing all real estate improvements in the upper part.

The part of the brook above Sumner road crosses the Boston & Albany railroad four times below Chestnut Hill avenue, and, as a rule, has no defined channel excepting such as the brook has made for itself. Much of the land on the line of the brook is valuable, especially that near Beacon street, and doubtless much of it would be improved in the near future if the brook was placed in a covered channel, but it is obvious that the improvement of this part of the brook must follow rather than precede that of the lower part, and the suggested real estate improvements held in abeyance.

Estimates of the cost of improving this water-course have been recently made.

The Washington-street brook, extending from Park street to the Brighton line, has been improved by the abutting land-owners on the lines of a well-considered plan, excepting for a distance of about 835 feet immediately above Park street, and for about 382 feet above Fairbanks street. In the latter section the old channel is at a different elevation from the new one, both above and below it, and in parts at least is of insufficient size. Estimates of the cost of improving this channel have been made.

The Saw Mill brook, so called, has its rise between Boylston street and Heath street, near Norfolk road, flows southerly across Hammond street and Newton street, and finally discharges into Charles river near the pumping station of the Brookline water works. This brook, with its branches, drains about 1,000 acres of Brookline territory, which has an average elevation of 175 feet above mean low tide in Boston harbor, but notwithstanding this very considerable elevation, more than 25 per cent of the area is swampy land, incapable of being utilized or improved without first being drained on some comprehensive system. Fortunately, the levels are such that the work can be done without a very large outlay of money. As yet the population of the district is small, excepting in the neighborhood of Walnut Hills Cemetery.

As the swampy areas are numerous and widely scattered throughout the district, the conditions are favorable for malaria becoming so strongly established that its eradication would be attended with a good deal of difficulty, and might become well-nigh impossible. The practicable method of dealing with the problem is by such thorough drainage, by means of open channels, as will entirely remove stagnant water and swamp vegetation. I regard the matter as of sufficient importance to merit the early attention of your board.

Topographical Survey.

The topographical survey of the town which was reported as being in progress last year, has been continued as rapidly as my force of assistants would allow. It is now expected that all of the work south of Boylston street and west of Chestnut street, will be completed early in the spring.

In order to properly and promptly pass upon the drainage questions which are continually arising, it is extremely desirable that the survey be extended over the whole town at an early day, and as much time as could be spared from construction and other matters demanding immediate attention has been devoted to this work. The survey has been made with sufficient care to enable the notes being used for street plans, assessors' plans, or any other purpose requiring accurate field notes.

Assessors' Plans.

The writer has been notified by the Assessors that they desire as soon as practicable, to have their plans constructed upon what is known as the "block" system. As stated in my report of last year, the plans now in use are very much mutilated, and are unsatisfactory in other particulars.

I think the new system of assessment would be an improvement upon the present one, and should be adopted by the Assessors' department, as soon as the new plans can be provided. The topographical survey will furnish field-notes for the proposed plans, and it is probable that the work upon them can be well advanced during the coming year.

Longwood Playground and Parkway.

The appropriation for the playground was $4,000, and that amount was spent early in the summer, mainly in the purchase of filling and the spreading of loam which had been acquired during the preceding year. During the fall and early winter quite a large amount of filling and loam was offered at such advantageous prices for the town, that at my suggestion, the Park Commissioners concluded to accept them, but with the written understanding that the town should be under no obligation to pay for them until another appropriation should be made. The cost of the work done since the appropriation was exhausted will be about $2,361.30.

The plan of the grading contemplates having a walk near the border of the playground, with the enclosed space graded nearly level, but slightly dishing, for the purposes of playing in the summer and of a skating pond in the winter. The brook which flows through the ground will be utilized for flooding it when desired, by merely inserting stop-planks in a well made to receive them.

My estimate of the cost of completing the grading, including the planting, surface-water drain, catch-basins, under-drains and stop-plank well, including the obligations incurred since the appropriation was exhausted, is $8,000.

On the Parkway the only work done has been that of maintaining the planting spaces and drives. Mr. David H. Sheehan has had immediate charge of the work.

The following is a list of the assistants and rodmen connected with the department at the date of this report: L. R. Cobb, H. A. Varney, G. H. Hayward, E. S. Phelps, F. A. Leavitt, E. N. Colburn, D. W. Robbins, H. J. Hughes, J. F. Driscoll, R. W. Loud, George Varney.

A schedule of the property belonging to the department is hereto attached, and a copy of the same placed on file in this office.

Respectfully,

ALEXIS H. FRENCH,
Town Engineer.

REPORT OF THE FIRE ENGINEERS.

BROOKLINE, Feb. 7th, 1896.

To the Board of Selectmen:—

GENTLEMEN:—In compliance with the town by-laws the Board of Engineers herewith respectfully submit their annual report of the condition and operation of the department during the year ending January 31, 1896. You will find annexed a statement of fires and alarms which have occurred during the past year, with the amount of loss and insurance as nearly as could be ascertained.

Fire Record.

During the past year the department has answered sixty-two alarms; thirty were bell alarms, and thirty-two were still alarms. The causes of these alarms were as follows:

Lamp explosion	2	Rats and matches	2
Grass fires	2	Careless use of naphtha and
Dump fires	4	matches	1
Sparks from locomotive	7	Hot ashes in wooden barrel . .	4
Incendiary	2	False box	3
Chimney fires	5	Escaping steam	2
Spontaneous combustion	2	Defective flue	4
Set by sparks from pipe	1	Burning tar kettle	1
Fire in woods	1	Spark from stove	3
Electric car works	1	No school	1
Boys and matches	6	Gas setting fire to curtain . . .	1
Fire-crackers	1	Cigar on awning	1
Sparks from bonfires	5

The loss, insurance and insurance paid, as nearly as could be ascertained, were:

Valuation of buildings and contents	$292,875
Loss on buildings and contents	27,679
Insurance on buildings and contents	248,350
Insurance paid	27,468

Organization.

The manual force consists of sixty-eight (68) men divided as follows: One chief engineer, two district chiefs, forty hosemen, thirteen laddermen, one engineer of steamer, and nine drivers of apparatus. Of this force thirteen are permanent and fifty-three are call members.

The permanent force consists of one engineman, nine drivers and three hosemen. The call force consists of one chief, two district chiefs, one assistant engineman and fifty hosemen and laddermen.

The discipline of the department the past year has been good, and we wish at this time to respectfully call your attention again to the necessity of strengthening the force by the addition of more permanent men.

Apparatus.

The apparatus in service is as follows: One hook and ladder truck, four hose-wagons, one combination hose and chemical engine, one steam fire engine, one chemical engine and four hose-pungs for winter use, all of which are in good condition. We would again at this time recommend that for the better protection of property in general, another steamer be purchased and placed in the lower part of the town. Then we would not have to rely on one steamer, and that one some distance away from all of our large and high buildings. We would also recommend that a modern hook-and-ladder truck be purchased, one whose extension ladders can be raised in the quickest possible time. We recommend the purchase of a truck because of the large number of high buildings which we have in town. More are being built each year, and as our longest ladder on the present truck is but sixty-five feet, it is evident that should a fire occur in any of the high buildings, the loss of life and property might be great, without proper ladder service.

Hose.

This important branch of the service requires constant care and attention. There is on hand at the present time ten thousand (10,000) feet of cotton, rubber-lined, seamless hose, all in good condition.

Horses.

We have in this department fourteen horses, the same as last year, which, owing to the good care they receive, are in good condition. As reported last year, the pair used to draw hose four are not fast enough for fire service, and should be replaced by a faster pair. Hose two should also have another horse, as theirs is old and stumbles some, and is not reliable. We would suggest that should any of the horses mentioned be replaced with new ones, the old horses be kept for spare horses, which are required to take the places of sick horses, and also for winter use.

Houses.

We have to report that the houses in this department are in good condition, with the exception of the houses in the village. These would look better if they were to receive a coat of paint and varnish, and new floors should be laid in the houses occupied by hose one and hose three.

Harnesses.

We have in use at the present time six sets of double harnesses, four single harnesses, one set lead harness, and two sets old harnesses which are used with watering carts. We have added the past winter another three-horse hitch, and attached it to the steamer, as we consider this the best way to provide for extra draft power. By so doing we only have to provide one extra horse where we used to have two for winter use.

Hydrants and Service.

By the report of the Superintendent of the Water Works, for the year ending Jan. 31, 1896, we find that twenty-nine new hydrants have been erected upon the high and low services, making a total of four hundred and twelve (412) hydrants which can be used for fire purposes. Under the watchful care of Supt. F. F. Forbes, the hydrants are always in good condition for immediate use. For further information in regard to hydrant service we would refer you to the superintendent's report.

Fire-Alarm Department.

During the past year two new boxes have been added to the lines, making a total of thirty-nine (39) boxes, which, under the care of Supt. E. N. Davis, have given good satisfaction. For other particulars in regard to the fire-alarm service, we would respectfully refer you to the superintendent's report.

Conclusion.

We herein return our thanks to the chairman and members of the board of Selectmen for their courteous treatment at all times; to the committee on fire department, for their hearty co-operation in keeping the department in good working condition; to the Chief of Police and officers and men under his command, for the prompt and efficient manner in which they have aided us at all times; and to the officers and members of this department, for the prompt and efficient manner in which they have responded to all alarms of fire, and their courage and endurance in the discharge of their duties.

Appropriations.

REPORT OF THE INSPECTOR OF BUILDINGS.

OFFICE OF THE INSPECTOR OF BUILDINGS,
TOWN HALL, BROOKLINE, MASS., February 1st, 1896.

To the Selectmen:—

GENTLEMEN :—The Inspector of Buildings has the honor to submit his seventh annual report, comprising the work performed from February 1st, 1895, to February 1st, 1896.

The whole number of permits granted was 558. Of that number—

40 were for brick and stone buildings, costing	$666,500 00
163 were for wood and frame buildings, costing	1,105,117 00
31 were for repairs, costing	67,500 00
324 were for plumbing, costing	128,587 00
	$1,967,704 00

While these figures show a balance in favor of last year of $127,528, there has been an increase of ten in the number of brick buildings, and of thirty-two in the number of wood and frame buildings. The average cost of the brick buildings is much less than that of the previous year, owing to the large number of expensive detached buildings built in that year.

The average cost of brick and stone buildings was	$16,662 50
The average cost of wood and frame buildings was	6,779 85
The average cost of repairs was	2,171 66
The average cost of plumbing was	396 87

The Inspector has received for licenses, as authorized by act of the Legislature, Chapter 455, Session of 1894, as follows :

From one applicant for a first license, who was examined and passed	$2 00
For eight master plumbers, at 50 cents each	4 00
From nineteen journeyman plumbers, at 50 cents each	9 50
	$15 50

This sum has been paid into the treasury, and a receipt received therefor.

For further information in regard to plumbing, see report of Inspector of Plumbing, which is appended.

Respectfully submitted,

W. K. MELCHER,

Inspector of Buildings.

REPORT OF THE INSPECTOR OF PLUMBING.

OFFICE OF THE INSPECTOR OF BUILDINGS,
TOWN HALL, BROOKLINE, MASS., January 31, 1896.

Mr. Wm. K. Melcher, Inspector of Buildings:—

DEAR SIR:—I herewith submit my report as Inspector of Plumbing, for the year ending January 31, 1896.

The whole number of permits granted to do plumbing was 324. Of this number —

Thirty-four were for brick and stone buildings, costing . . .	$32,727
Average cost, $962.56.
One hundred and sixty-seven were for wood and frame buildings, costing . . .	79,248
Average cost, $474.54.
Eighty were for additions and repairs, costing . . .	13,785
Average cost, $172 31.
Forty-three were for improved drainage, costing . . .	2,827
Average cost, $65.75.
Total cost . . .	$128,587

The above figures show an increase of $24,580 over those of last year.

Number of visits of inspection . . .	1,012
Number of water-tests made . . .	276

The above record shows that during the past year more plumbing was done than in any other year since the plumbing ordinance went into effect. This was owing, in great measure, to the large amount of plumbing placed in the numerous wooden buildings erected in the northerly portion of the town. While for obvious reasons this increase was greatly to be desired, it has, in conjunction with miscellaneous work performed for other departments of the town, drawn very heavily upon the time of the Inspector.

Although the calls received were numerous, especially during the summer months, no part of the work of inspection has been neglected. The water-test was made on all new drainage, and also on such old as required it. All defective pipes and fittings detected were condemned and caused to be removed. The number of faulty joints and unsound pipe and fittings discovered by means of these tests was very large.

The Inspector has not been inconsiderate of the rights of plumbers and others whose interests would suffer by delay in making the necessary tests, and he has endeavored to be, and has been, as prompt as possible in responding to calls for inspection and water-tests.

The improvement in plumbing mentioned in last year's report has continued, and it is believed that upon the introduction of the proposed revised ordinance, it will be even greater.

The violations of the ordinance were fewer in number than last year, and were settled without resorting to legal measures. That the duties of this office can be performed without more or less contention is not to be thought of, for in the nature of the case the ordinance which the Inspector is required by law to enforce frequently invites more or less opposition from those who are chiefly affected by such enforcement, and unless the Inspector is willing to concede more than in fairness and justice is possible, he must at times expect this. While insisting at all times upon prompt and complete compliance with the terms of the ordinance, the Inspector has been careful to avoid unnecessary friction.

Respectfully submitted,

MICHAEL DUFFLEY,

Inspector of Plumbing.

The license of Patrick McCarthy for the exclusive right to collect grease and bones for one year was renewed.

It was voted that a contract be made with D. B. Morrill for the collection of garbage.

The usual orders relating to dangerous infectious diseases were passed.

During the year ending December 31, 1895, there were reported to the board twenty-four cases of scarlet fever, ninety-seven cases of diphtheria, nine cases of typhoid fever and twenty-one cases of measles, occurring as follows :

* No record kept of Typhoid Fever cases until 1882.

The cases of scarlet fever, of which only one was fatal, were distributed as follows: One each on Auburn street, Beacon street, Brook street, Brookline avenue, Charles street, Colchester street, Gardner road, Gordon terrace, Longwood avenue, Pearl street, Pleasant street and Washington street; three on Boylston street, above Cypress street; four on Newton street, and five on Harvard street.

The ninety-seven cases of diphtheria, of which fifteen were fatal, were distributed as follows: One each on Carlton street, Commonwealth avenue, Cypress street, Fay place, Juniper street, Kerrigan lane, Ridgeway street, Seaver street, Summit avenue, Thorndike street, Villa lane, Vernon street, Walnut street, Warren street, Waverly street, Washington street near Beacon street; two each on Boylston street, above and below Cypress street, Brook street, Harvard avenue, Newton street, Toxteth street and Walter avenue; three each on Ackers avenue, Cameron street and Washington street, in the village; four each on Boylston place, Flora street, School street and Roberts street; five on Heath street; six on Harvard street; twelve on Pearl street, and nineteen on Brookline avenue.

The nine cases of typhoid fever, of which three were fatal, were distributed as follows: One each on Auburn street, Babcock street, Beacon street, Brookline avenue, Colchester street, High street, Marion street, Morss avenue and Pearl street.

Nine cases of typhoid fever, several of which, if not all, were found on investigation to have been contracted away from home, is an exceedingly small number for a population of over sixteen thousand, and is the best possible evidence of the care taken to maintain the purity of our public water supply.

The number of deaths from all causes from Jan. 1, 1895, to Dec. 31, 1895, inclusive, was 254, as against 247 in 1894, 254 in 1893, 223 in 1892, and 213 in 1891. Deducting the still births, nine in number, it leaves 243 deaths during the year, the population as shown by the census of May 1, 1895, being 16,164. This shows a mortality of 15.03 per 1000 of inhabitants for 1895, as against 15.60 for 1894 and 16.28 for 1893.

There were reported 34 deaths (about 14 per cent of all the deaths) from tuberculosis, as against 34 also in 1894 and 30 in 1893, most of the cases taking the form of pulmonary consumption.

Following the suggestion of the State Board of Health, that local boards should publish information as to how this common and most fatal infectious disease may be prevented, we would call attention to the following brief circular of the board:

THE PREVENTION OF CONSUMPTION.

Consumption is the most destructive disease of New England, the number of persons dying annually from this cause in Massachusetts alone amounting to nearly six thousand.

The disease is infectious, and can be communicated from one person to another. The chief danger exists in the expectoration of the sick, and if this expectoration is carefully destroyed little danger need be feared.

Consumptives should be instructed not to spit upon the floors of rooms, public halls, street and railway cars, nor in the streets, but into pieces of cloth, or receptacles made for the purpose, containing water or a disinfecting solution. Such bits of cloth should be destroyed by fire before the sputa become dry, and other receptacles should be cleansed with scalding water, their contents having been destroyed or otherwise carefully disposed of. Handkerchiefs which may have been used from necessity should be boiled half an hour before washing.

A healthy person should not sleep in the same room with a consumptive.

Remember that sputa must never be allowed to become dry.

OFFICE OF THE STATE BOARD OF HEALTH, BOSTON.

Revised January, 1895.

The Board of Health hospitals have been kept in readiness throughout the year, and have been used for the efficient isolation and care of two cases of scarlet fever and twenty-one of diphtheria.

The only death occurring in the hospital was in the case of a feeble little child, ill with both measles and diphtheritic croup, the latter disease being well advanced and beyond control when admitted to the hospital.

It is gratifying to be able to state that during the diphtheria epidemic in Brookline and the surrounding cities and towns in October, November and December, of the eighteen patients admitted to the hospital, all going with their parents' approval or consent, and all of whom received one or more injections of anti-toxine,* all recovered. The number of diphtheria patients reported in the town during the same time, many of whom also had anti-toxine, was forty-two, of which number nine died, or 21.4 per cent. During the epidemic, and since, anti-toxine has been furnished free by the board, on application, to physicians having patients who could ill afford to pay for it. The State Board anti-toxine was supplied when available, otherwise Behring's, and excellent results were reported from both.

The district that suffered most from diphtheria was Brookline avenue, where nineteen cases were reported and seven deaths, a mortality of 36 per cent. The unsanitary condition of the district lying between Brookline avenue and the Parkway, more especially the easterly portion, was due to soil dampness, and defective plumbing in many of the houses, most of which are old. The latter cause, defective house drainage, was removed early in the epidemic by the efforts of the sanitary inspector, acting under direction of the board; but the soil dampness still remains, and, favoring diphtheria, consumption and malaria, constitutes a serious menace to health.

During the epidemic just passed, the medical profession of the town and many other influential citizens petitioned the Board of Health to have early attention given the unsanitary condition of the district mentioned, and a public hearing was given. Excepting some slight opposition from one or two interested parties, all present, whether physicians or not, seemed to agree with the board that, in addition to the precautionary measures already taken by the latter, radical measures should be adopted, and as soon as practicable, to abate the causes of disease in that locality. The matter was given to the town engineer to examine into, and he has made a report which is now under consideration by the board.

At the first intimation that an epidemic was imminent, the Agent of the Board, with the approval of the Board of Health, and Superintendent of Schools, re-established for the time the daily medical inspection of schools, reappointing the physicians who served the previous year.

The work of the medical examination of the Lincoln and Boylston schools becoming too much for one inspector to satisfactorily attend to, Dr. S. A. Houghton, a substitute, was assigned to one of these schools for a few weeks.

On the recommendation of the Agent of the Board and of the medical inspector, the Winthrop School on Brookline avenue was closed for a few weeks, also the Union Kindergarten.

The value of the bacteriological test as a means of certain diagnosis, which is required to be made in all diphtheritic cases before they are released from quarantine, has been emphasized by the recent experiences here. These examinations are made by Prof. H. C. Ernst and his assistants, and are proving most satisfactory.

The continued prevalence to some extent of intermittent fever (malaria) in a portion of the town, has again received the attention of the board, and a plan has been decided upon for draining the land between Heath street and Woodland road, which it is believed will put the district in question in a more sanitary condition.

The need of improved public bathing facilities and of a new public swimming-bath, recommended in previous reports of this board, as an important sanitary measure, has been recognized by the town, and the necessary steps for securing a new public bath-house, first-class in every respect, have been taken.

The Inspector of Milk, the Agent of the Board, and the Sanitary Inspector were all called on to make special investigations during the diphtheria epidemic, and attention is called to the appended reports.

About the usual number of complaints of nuisances received the attention of the board, and such action was taken as seemed appropriate.

An incident of the year was the holding of the regular quarterly meeting of the Massachusetts Association of Boards of Health in Brookline in October, some sixty members and guests being present. Among the distinguished guests was Prof. Klebs of Germany, the discoverer, with Löffler, of the bacillus of diphtheria.

After a visit to a portion of the Brookline Water Works and the Board of Health Hospitals, a collation was provided, and papers on the sanitary disposal of garbage and efficient disinfection were read and discussed.

Before closing this report the Agent of the Board wishes to thank the physicians of the town, and especially Dr. George K. Sabine, formerly agent of the board, and the Medical Inspectors of Schools, for their united support and kind assistance on several occasions. He is also under obligations to Chief of Police Bowman and his officers, especially for ambulance service previous to its transfer to the hospital department, and for other assistance.

Careful attention is respectfully called to the following extracts from the Public Statutes and Orders of the Board of Health relating to infectious diseases:—

[ACTS OF 1884, CHAPTER 98.]

AN ACT CONCERNING CONTAGIOUS DISEASES.

SECTION 1. [As amended by Act of 1890, Chapter 102.] When a householder knows that a person within his family or house is sick with small-pox, diphtheria, scarlet fever or any other infectious or contagious disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice thereof to the Board of Health of the city or town in which he dwells, and upon the death, recovery, or removal of such person, such of the rooms of said house and such of the articles therein as, in the opinion of the Board of Health, have been subjected to infection or contagion shall be disinfected by such householder to the satisfaction of said Board of Health.* Any person neglecting or refusing to comply with either of the above provisions shall be punished by a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars.

SECT. 2. When a physician knows that a person whom he is called to visit, is infected with small-pox, diphtheria, scarlet fever, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice thereof to the Selectmen or Board of Health of the town; and if he refuses or neglects to give such notice, he shall forfeit for each offense not less than fifty nor more than two hundred dollars.

SECT. 3. The Boards of Health in the several cities and towns shall cause a record to be kept of all reports received in pursuance of the preceding sections, and such record shall contain the names of all persons who are sick, the localities in which they live, the diseases with which they are affected, together with the date and names of the persons reporting any such cases. The Board of Health shall give the School Committee immediate information of all cases of contagious diseases reported to them according to the provisions of this act.

SECT. 4. The Secretary of the Commonwealth shall furnish the Boards of Health with blank books for the record of cases of contagious diseases as above provided.

[The Board of Health considers small-pox, scarlet fever, measles, diphtheria, membranous croup, cholera, typhus fever and typhoid fever to come within the meaning of sections one and two of the above, but disinfection after measles and typhoid is not insisted upon.]

EXTRACTS FROM THE PUBLIC STATUTES CONCERNING VACCINATION.

CHAP. 80, SECT. 51. Parents and guardians shall cause their children and wards to be vaccinated before they attain the age of two years, and revaccinated when the Selectmen or Mayor and Aldermen shall, after five years from the last vaccination, require it. For every year's neglect the party offending shall forfeit five dollars.

CHAP. 80, SECT. 53. Towns shall furnish the means of vaccination to such of their inhabitants as are unable to pay for the same.

CHAP. 47, SECT. 9. The School Committee shall not allow a child who has not been duly vaccinated to be admitted to or connected with the public schools.

[Application for vaccination, by persons who are unable to pay for it, may be made to any member of the board or to its clerk or agent.]

REPORT OF THE INSPECTOR OF MILK AND VETERINARY INSPECTOR.

OFFICE OF THE BOARD OF HEALTH,
January 31, 1896.

To the Board of Health:—

GENTLEMEN:—I have the honor to submit the following report, for the year ending Dec. 31st, 1896.

During the year 210 samples of milk and five samples of vinegar have been collected and analyzed. One sample of vinegar fell below the standard, and the dealer was notified of the fact.

Of the milk samples, 38 per cent have fallen below the 13 per cent of total solids, but only 11 per cent below 12.5 per cent, which is practically the real legal limit, as no prosecutions are undertaken or sustained unless the milk falls off more than one-half of one per cent from the requirements of Massachusetts law.

The figures given include the months of May and June, during which months the legal standard is 12 per cent, thus showing the quality and purity of our milk supply to be very satisfactory.

As regards the justice of this standard, there seems to be no room for complaint; for while we occasionally find a cow whose milk will fall below 12.5 per cent of total solids, there is no difficulty in obtaining mixed milk of this quality, as the following experience shows.

During the latter part of December of last year, and in January of this, no tests were made. On the 25th of January 11 samples were analyzed, and 54 per cent found to be below the standard for total solids, and 64 per cent below 3.5 per cent fat. Notices were promptly sent to dealers where milk was found deficient, and after a few weeks, only one sample fell below the standard for solids, and one below

3.5 per cent fat, an improvement so immediate and so marked as to be very noticeable.

I do not infer from these results that the milkmen doing business in Brookline intentionally adulterate or in any way tamper with the milk they sell, but do believe that by keeping strict watch of the milk traffic the dealers are made more careful of the quality of milk they buy, and more particular that each customer shall receive milk that fairly represents the product of the dairy, and not a sample from the bottom of a can from which the richer top milk has been poured off without proper mixing. The milkmen have had the privilege of watching the quality of their milk themselves by submitting samples for analysis any Monday morning, when the work has been done in the same manner as if samples were taken by a regular collector, and the report mailed direct to the address given, free of any expense. This privilege is also extended to consumers known to be residents of Brookline, the only requirements being that the sample be sent in on Monday, as the laboratory work has been planned so as to give extra time for this special work on this day. If more would avail themselves of this provision, more effective work might be done in keeping up the quality of our milk supply.

A number of such private analyses have been made during the year. They are not reckoned in the number given of samples analyzed, and no detailed results are published. From among these, several were considered to be of particular interest; one sample was stringy and quite tenacious. This stringy condition is not very uncommon, and is due to a slimy fermentation which has been found to be connected with a large variety of micro-organisms. Some of these organisms render milk slimy in their early growth, others only after several days, and some do not render the fresh milk slimy at all, but first curdle it, and then dissolve the curd into a slimy solution. Another sample was distinctly colored pink, and it was suspected of containing blood. This sample was submitted to Prof. William F. Whitney, of the Harvard Medical School, who reported the milk free from blood and the color probably due to some chromogenic bacteria, as the Bacillus Prodigiosus. The spores of this microbe exist in the atmosphere, and rapidly develop when allowed to fall on any nutrient medium. It is classed among the non-pathogenic bacteria, and appears to be perfectly harmless if taken into the system.

A few samples suspected of containing the germs of tuberculosis have been received and carefully examined, with negative results in each case. The method employed was that known as the sedimentation method, which consists of dissolving the caseine and other albuminous matter, by warming with dilute caustic potash, then allowing the sample to settle for twenty-four hours, the object being to get rid of anything of a viscous or thickening nature, thus allowing the germs, which have a fairly high specific gravity, to more quickly and more surely settle in the small end of the conical glass employed for the purpose. The sediment thus deposited is examined by the usual methods for the tubercle bacilli. Such examination, although conducted with the greatest care, cannot be considered conclusive, as the germs are so small, and in a fluid like milk so widely scattered, as to render the chance of missing them very great, especially when only a single sample is examined; hence we resort to inoculation experiments upon guinea pigs; and even here several tests must be made with different samples of the milk in order to obtain results which will not admit of question or dispute.

The best way in all such cases is to be sure that the milk comes from cows which have been subjected to the tuberculin test and found free from disease.

In my report of last year I made a recommendation relative to some regulations as to the sanitary conditions under which animals should be kept; and upon a request transmitted by H. Lincoln Chase, M. D., Agent of the Board, I forwarded August 31st, a few suggestions which were intended to serve as a basis of such regulations. This resulted in the issue by your Honorable Board, on September 16th, of the following order:

IT IS HEREBY ORDERED, — First, That on and after Nov. 1st, 1895, no person or corporation shall keep or allow to be kept upon any premises in his or its possession, within the limits of this town, more than one cow, without securing a permit from the Board of Health to do so. Such permit shall expire on the first day of May, annually.

Second, That on and after Nov. 1st, 1895, no person or corporation shall use any building as a stable for cows, unless such building is properly lighted and ventilated; has a tight floor and roof; good drainage, connecting wherever practicable with the public sewer; a supply of pure water, and not less than one thousand cubic feet of air space for each animal.

Third, That manure shall not be allowed to accumulate in the neighborhood of barns. Yards surrounding buildings where cows are kept must be well drained and free from standing water and filth. The barns shall be kept as clean as possible, and the floor shall be sprinkled before being swept.

Fourth, That neither hogs nor manure shall be kept in cellars of cow stables, except by special permit of the Board of Health.

Fifth, That animals kept for the production of milk shall not be fed upon swill.

Sixth, Any person having an infectious disease, or having recently been in contact with any such person, shall not be allowed to milk cows or handle cans, measures or other vessels used for milk intended for sale, or in any way take part or assist in the sale of the same, until the Board of Health is satisfied that all danger of communicating such disease is passed.

Seventh, That premises where cattle are kept shall be open at all times to inspection by the Board of Health, or its appointed officer.

Eighth, That upon satisfactory evidence being furnished to the Board of Health of violations of any of the above regulations, the permit will be revoked.

No prosecutions have been made during the year, although it has been necessary to send a number of letters of warning to several dealers. In such cases the quality of milk has been watched with more than usual care for a few weeks succeeding such letter, and the milk was brought up to the requisite standard, without further action by the inspector, in every instance.

On May 9th I found eight persons engaged in the milk business in Brookline without proper license; these were promptly notified, and they complied with the law in this respect.

During the year there have been reported fourteen cases of tuberculosis, which were destroyed; the post mortem proving the diagnosis correct in each case.

FREDERICK H. OSGOOD, M. R. C. V. S.,

Inspector of Milk and Veterinary Inspector.

REPORT OF THE INSPECTOR OF ANIMALS AND PROVISIONS.

BROOKLINE, February 7th, 1896.

To the Board of Health:—

GENTLEMEN:—I have the honor to submit my report for the year ending December 31, 1895.

In accordance with the requirements of the law, I have made the regular spring and fall inspections of all the milch cattle, numbering 429, in the town of Brookline.

In the spring inspection I found the cattle in very fair condition, but the condition of the barns, in a great many cases, was far from being satisfactory. The suggestions made to the cattle owners were carried out by most of them, and permits were granted.

In September, the Board of Health, with Dr. F. H. Osgood and the writer, prepared some orders calculated to improve the hygienic condition of cow-barns; these appear in the report of the Veterinary Inspector and Inspector of Milk. The effect of these orders, I believe, will be most excellent.

In October, the second regular complete inspection of all the cattle in town was made, and considerable improvement was noted. Besides these two regular inspections, required by law, a number of special inspections were made from time to time as occasion required. All animals that were found to be suffering from tuberculosis were turned over to the state authorities.

At the present date all the milkmen in the town have complied with the orders of the board as to improvements of the cow-barns, excepting six; these have been reported to the board for such action as it may see fit to take. Three horses suffering from glanders were destroyed; the stable was disinfected, and subsequently was visited from time to time. As no further outbreak has occurred the premises seem to be free from that disease. Two horses that were suspected to be suffering from glanders were quarantined, and finally proved to be free from that disease. One dog suspected to be suffering from hydrophobia was found to have epilepsy.

The inspections of provisions that were made proved satisfactory.

Respectfully submitted,

ALEXANDER MARSHALL, M. R. C. V. S.,

Inspector of Animals and Provisions.

REPORT OF THE SANITARY INSPECTOR.

OFFICE OF THE BOARD OF HEALTH,
BROOKLINE, MASS., January 31, 1896.

To the Board of Health:—

GENTLEMEN:—I have the honor to submit the following report as Sanitary Inspector for the year ending January 31st, 1896.

The number of visits of inspection was 268. All written and many of the verbal complaints received of alleged nuisances were fully investigated, and where real nuisances were found to exist they have been abated, under direction of the board.

The usual sources of offense were defective house drainage, filthy yards and cellars, overflowing cesspools, offensive stables, and other nuisances of similar character. Four parties were legally notified to abate their nuisances and properly connect their buildings with the sewer. This they persistently refused to do, and in consequence were sub-pœnaed. The court compelled full compliance with the orders of the board in all of the cases. For sufficient reasons, one house-owner was given until spring to make certain needed sanitary improvements; it being shown to the board's satisfaction that a certain building used as a stable was wholly unsuitable for such purpose and offensive to the neighborhood, it was ordered to be vacated and the premises cleaned up, which was done.

In the Brookline-avenue district, on the Parkway side, where diphtheria was very prevalent during the late autumn, several inspections were made by direction of the board, and the causes of the epidemic, so far as they depended on bad house-drainage, were removed. Forty-three permits have been granted for improving the drainage in dwelling-houses. Pepperment tests have been made in twelve houses—in seven by the request of the owners, and in five by request of the medical agent of the board, where there were cases of diphtheria; in all of the latter and in two of the former defective drainage was discovered. The defects were corrected by the owners, under direction of the Sanitary Inspector.

During the year Willard E. Ward disinfected (according to the printed directions of the Agent of the Board) the infected rooms in seventy-four houses where there had been diphtheria; in sixteen, where there had been scarlet-fever; in one, where there had been a patient with both diphtheria and scarlet-fever; and in three, by request of the owners, where there had been measles.

Last, but not least, a large number of sanitary inspections of school buildings have been made, both during vacation and during the rest of the year.

Respectfully submitted,

MICHAEL DUFFLEY,

Sanitary Inspector.

REPORT OF THE OVERSEERS OF THE POOR.

During the past year some improvements have been made at the Almshouse, adding greatly to its comfort and convenience. A bath-room has been supplied for the use of the Superintendent, a set bath-tub for the male inmates, and set tubs in the laundry. A hen-house has also been built. Apart from this there is little to report. The management under Mrs. Campbell's direction continues satisfactory. The number of inmates varies very little; there are now eight—seven men and one woman, and there have been received during the year for short periods three other persons; one of these has been admitted four times.

The report shows an increase in Almshouse expenses of $159.80; but it should be stated in explanation that the hose recently purchased for the better protection of the buildings from fire, and also some painting, have been charged to this account, and that the actual running expenses have been only about $40 more than last year.

The list of those receiving regular outdoor relief has changed but little since last year. Of the five men mentioned in the last report, whose families were receiving regular aid from the town, two have died, one is working and supporting his family, and one has worked part of the time, calling only occasionally for relief.

The only new case of special interest during the year was that of a man in the upper part of the town, a cripple, who was left, by the death of his wife, with the care of six children. The youngest was taken by relatives, but the man was in receipt of a private pension and refused all aid. Frequent complaints were made of the condition of the children, and through the agency of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, four of them were at last committed to the Overseers, and provided with homes in the country. The father and the eldest girl managed to live through the summer, but with the coming of cold weather it became necessary, as the father had lost his pension, to make some other arrangement, and he has been boarded with relatives in another town, while his daughter, after a few weeks' training at the Almshouse, has been placed in a family where she is supporting herself and doing well. It is hoped that two of the other children can soon be similarly provided for.

Besides this family, one woman has been added to the number of those regularly relieved; and of those mentioned last year, two no longer receive aid.

Two children, deserted by their parents, are still supported by the town, in addition to the four above mentioned. Two others, who have been boarded for several years have become old enough to maintain themselves; five are at the truant and reform schools.

Temporary aid to the sick has been given in twenty-six cases, but the greater part of the expense has been repaid by the towns of settlement or by the State, and the cost of this item has been unusually small.

The insane supported at the expense of the town now number twenty-one, an increase of two since last year. All have been visited from time to time, and while there is little improvement in their mental condition, they are comfortably and suitably cared for. The cost of this part of our work is $3,332.43,—nearly half of our whole appropriation.

We have expended in all $7,761.23, a decrease from last year of $342.70. The usual tables follow:

WATER BOARD.

ORGANIZATION, 1895-96.

ZEPH. R. FORBES, Registrar and Clerk.

WILLIAM B. WEBBER, Engineer at High-Service Station.

REPORT OF THE WATER BOARD.

The Brookline Water Board herewith submits its annual report, being for the fiscal year ending January 31st, 1896, and the twentieth annual report. As in former years, the reports of the Superintendent of the Water Works and the engineers at the pumping stations, with pumping statistics, accompany this report.

At the annual town meeting held March 27, 1895, William K. Melcher was re-elected a member of the board for three years. The board organized by the choice of William K. Melcher as chairman, and Zeph. R. Forbes as registrar and clerk. There has been no change in the regular employees of the department.

General Extensions — Street-Mains and Service-Pipe.

The call for short extensions of street-mains have been numerous throughout the year, and with the special extension of the main in Heath street and the extra work on Walnut street, occasioned by the laying of a 48-inch water main by the city of Boston, this department has had a very busy season.

As it is the policy of this board to have pipe in stock for ordinary calls, all petitions for street-main extensions have been promptly complied with.

The extension of the main in Heath street was made in accordance with a vote passed by the town; and while not paying 5 per cent on the cost of the work, as is the general rule, it may be said that the water supply thus made available to the residents of this part of the town is of great value to them, as heretofore their supply was obtained from wells and ponds, and was unfit for domestic use.

The laying of the Boston main in Walnut street made it necessary to change the location of our main pipe, between Washington street and Walnut place, and to relay the service-pipes the entire length of the street. This was a somewhat difficult undertaking, as the water supply had to be constantly maintained, but under the able management of our Superintendent, Mr. F. F. Forbes, the work was successfully accomplished.

The work was completed September 1st, and the cost — $3,596.66 — was wholly borne by the city of Boston.

For a detailed account of the street-mains laid during the past season, see the Superintendent's report hereto annexed.

The call for service-pipes has been constant throughout the season, 226 having been laid, which is an increase of 74 over those laid last year. The total number of service-pipes now in use is 2,775.

Meters.

The number of supplies now metered are 1,255; of this number 32 are temporarily shut off, leaving the actual number of meters now in use in town 1,223. The following table shows the make, number and size of all meters used by private citizens and those in the public buildings of the town:

NAME OF METER.	$\frac{5}{8}$ -inch.	$\frac{3}{4}$ -inch.	1-inch.	1 $\frac{1}{2}$ -inch.	2-inch.	3-inch.	Total.
Crown	489	22	8	8	1	..	528
Thomson	316	3	4	..	1	..	324
Hersey	170	7	2	2	181
Duplex	63	1	64
Union Rotary	51	..	2	9	1	..	63
Trident	33	33
Nash	5	5
Worthington	21	21
Metropolitan	4	4
Totals	1152	33	14	17	5	2	1223

There has been a decided gain in the meter system of the town during the past year, notably among the buildings recently constructed.

The method of paying for the actual number of gallons of water consumed, and no more, as is only possible by use of the meter, seems to meet with general approval.

As a preventive of waste, the meter is of great value to this department, and it is found that an increase in the number of services metered is invariably followed by a decrease in the consumption.

Quality of the Water.

As to the quality of the water supply, it can be said, as in former reports, that it has remained at the same high standard as previous years. From our own observations and also from those of the State Board of Health, there seems to be no reason why the supply should deteriorate.

Buildings.

The buildings under the care of this board are in good condition, the principal item of expense for their care during the past year being for painting at the pumping stations.

At the low-service pumping station the new engine, which had not been previously painted, together with the relief engines, were painted and the walls and boiler setting of the boiler-room whitewashed.

The engines and engine room at the high-service station have also been painted.

The general appearance of these two stations has been very favorably commented upon by many persons visiting the works, a fact which speaks well for the care and attention manifest by the engineers in charge.

New High-Duty Pumping Engine.

It was stated in our last annual report that the use of the new engine would reduce the cost of pumping to such an extent that it would not be necessary to increase the amount appropriated for maintenance of the works. Our expectations have been realized, and even better results than those anticipated have been attained:

The following figures were taken from the records of this department, and show the gallons pumped per pound of coal consumed with both the old and new engines:

Year ending Jan. 31.	Gallons pumped.	Coal consumed.	Gallons pumped per pound of coal consumed.
1883	180,041,804	760,910	236.5	Old engine.
1893	390,593,090	1,351,032	288.0	“ “
1894	443,973,099	1,582,471	281.0	“ “
1896	490,247,441	748,503	655.0	New “

The record for the past year shows a remarkable increase in the number of gallons pumped per pounds of coal consumed over that of previous years, and would have been even better had it not been necessary to run the old engine for a period of nearly two weeks while the new engine was being painted.

Had the old engine been exclusively used the past year to do the same work as that performed by the new engine, the additional cost of coal alone would have been $2,000.

Several tests have been made during the year to determine the most economical speed to run the engine and the duty obtainable, and exact figures of daily runs have been kept. From the result of these observations it is evident that our high-duty pumping engine has few, if any equals.

Metropolitan Water Supply.

During the first part of the season it came to the notice of the board that the State Board of Health, acting under authority of chapter 459 of the Acts of 1893, were considering the question of supplying the so-called Metropolitan district, in which Brookline is situated, with water.

As our present water supply is one of the best in New England and in every way satisfactory to the citizens, it was not considered for the best interests of the town to be included in this scheme. The measure was therefore strenuously opposed before the legislative committee, and in consequence Brookline was not included among the towns to be provided with Metropolitan water.

Land Taken for an Additional Water Supply.

Settlements for 101.50 acres of land, taken for an additional water supply, have been made during the past year, and deeds obtained for the same. There are but three more settlements to be made, and negotiations are now pending whereby it is expected that a satisfactory adjustment of these cases will soon be made.

Number laid per last report	2,549
Laid the past season	226
Total number laid to date	2,775

It is hardly necessary to state that the past season has been a busy one, for this saying is now old, and we might as well conclude that each season will have its full share of work.

A brief review of the most important things done by this department is as follows: A comparison of the number of feet of street-mains laid the past season with that of the year immediately preceding will show an increase of 4,000 feet. These extensions have included the bringing together of a number of "dead ends," thus adding to the efficiency of the fire service, and also bettering the quality of water in such localities.

Several hydrants have been placed in different parts of the town where most needed.

The laying of the 48-inch pipe by the city of Boston through our town, made much work, as all service-pipes, hydrant connections and mains crossing the street in which this large pipe was carried, were from necessity changed, and in addition to this, the 12-inch main in a portion of Walnut street had to be placed in a different part of the street. These changes required a gang of men and foreman nearly two months.

Perhaps the most gratifying increase is noted in the service-pipe department, as this furnishes a means of judging of the comparative growth of the town in buildings and population, and consequently wealth and popularity. The number laid was greater than for any other year since the works were placed in the hands of the Water Board, and reached 226, or 74 more than last year.

The amount of water consumed was but slightly in excess of the amount used in 1894, and was not in proportion to the gain in new water takers. This is explained in part by a closer inspection of water fixtures and a more general use of meters.

The usual care has been taken of the grounds at the reservoir and around the pumping-stations. The hydrants have been regularly inspected. All the gates have been examined and many of the spindles repacked. Every shut-off on the service-pipes has been tested, and relocated in case the old locations were incomplete.

The driven wells have shown no indication that fine sand is accumulating in them and choking their yield, and consequently the quantity of water which they originally furnished has in no way decreased. A record of the heights of the water in the ground in the neighborhood of the wells has been continued and gives much useful information.

Special attention is called to the data of a test of our new engine, made in January last, which appears in the report of the engineer at the low-service station. We can reasonably experience much satisfaction in giving these figures to the public. The following table gives the amount of water pumped, coal consumed and revenue received from private consumers for the last fourteen years. All the coal used for heating buildings as well as for pumping is included in the amount given. A glance will show the great saving the new engine is making us.

LOW-SERVICE ENGINEER'S REPORT.

LOW-SERVICE PUMPING STATION,
WEST ROXBURY, February 5, 1896.

To the Brookline Water Board:—

GENTLEMEN:—I have the honor to present the report of the Engineer for the year ending January 31, 1896.

The total quantity of water pumped by engines No. 1 and No. 3 is 490,247,441 gallons, an increase of 8,872,815 gallons over last year. The coal consumption shows a decrease of 223,524 lbs., and the pumping time a decrease of 231 hours.

Boilers.

The boilers are in good condition. Several tests made show that in every-day practice they give an evaporation of $9\frac{1}{2}$ to $10\frac{1}{2}$ pounds of water per pound of coal. Slight repairs have been made on the fire-brick lining of furnace No. 1. The boiler settings and the walls of boiler-room have been whitewashed and painted. Several samples of bituminous coal, including Pocahontas, have been tested during the year. The Jackson mine, George's Creek coal, gave the best evaporation. The moisture in the different coals varied from $2\frac{1}{2}$ to $6\frac{1}{2}$ per cent and the ash from 6 to $12\frac{3}{4}$ per cent.

A Worthington hot-water meter for measuring the feed-water has been attached to the boiler feed pipes. It has been tested several times, and found to be accurate in its measurements, the greatest error being less than one per cent. The grate surface of each boiler has been reduced to $22\frac{1}{2}$ square feet.

Pumping Engines.

Engine No. 1 is in good condition. It was used for two weeks while painting engine No. 3, during which time it easily kept up the supply in the reservoir, running as well and giving as good a duty as it did twenty years ago. One air-pump valve and spring have been renewed and the engine painted. Engine No. 2 has not been used during the year.

It has been painted and the pistons moved occasionally, to keep them from corroding.

Engine No. 3 is giving even better results than last year. The designer of the engine, Mr. Irving H. Reynolds, says that it is now the most economical engine in New England, if not in America, and that we are not only keeping it up to its original standard, but improving it.

The disagreeable noise which the dash-pots made has been stopped by attaching mufflers to the exhaust pipes of the pots. Polished brass guard-rails have been placed around the fly-wheel pits and between the engine frames. A copper bend has been put in the main steam-pipe to replace a leaky cast-iron elbow near the separator. The steam chest of the high-pressure cylinder has been connected to a steam trap which also drains the bottom of the high-pressure cylinder. The discharge from the trap passes through a coil of pipe in the feed-water tank.

During the last week of January two tests of engine No. 3 and boiler No. 1 were made, to determine the most economical speed of the engine. The average speed for the first test was $21\frac{1}{2}$ revolutions per minute, and $29\frac{1}{2}$ revolutions for the second test. The duty at $21\frac{1}{2}$ revolutions was 132 million foot-pounds, and at $29\frac{1}{2}$ revolutions 140 million foot-pounds per 100 pounds of wet coal. At $21\frac{1}{2}$ revolutions the engine pumped 34 gallons more per pound of coal than at the higher speed, as there was less friction in the force-main, and consequently less resistance against the pump plungers. The difference in duty is fully explained by the following facts: The evaporation of the boiler at $29\frac{1}{2}$ revolutions was $6\frac{2}{10}$ per cent better than at $21\frac{1}{2}$ revolutions, the grate surface being proportioned for the faster speed. If the evaporation was the same at $21\frac{1}{2}$ revolutions as at $29\frac{1}{2}$ revolutions, the duty at the slower speed would have been 140.3 millions. The principal results of one of the tests is shown in Table B. A duty of 140 millions per 100 pounds of wet coal, under ordinary conditions and without special preparation, is something to be proud of.

I subjoin the following tables, the record of pumping engines, etc., all of which is respectfully submitted.

HIGH-SERVICE ENGINEER'S REPORT.

HIGH-SERVICE PUMPING STATION,

BROOKLINE, Feb. 1 1896.

To the Brookline Water Board:—

GENTLEMEN :—I have the honor to present herewith the report of the engineer of the high-service pumping station for the year ending Jan. 31, 1896.

The boilers and brick settings are in excellent condition, and will require no repairs the coming year.

An entire new set of rubber valves has been placed in the water-ends of the Blake engine, and a few other slight repairs made. The reserve engine has been in use only a few days, and in fact was run only for the purpose of keeping it in good working order. The engine is well able, however, to pump all the water required at any time of the year when it may be necessary or desirable to use it.

Both engines and all the woodwork in the engine room, with the exception of the roof, were painted in January last, greatly improving the internal appearance.

The buildings are in a good state of repair, and with the exception of some painting of the outside woodwork, will need no other special attention.

The amount of water pumped is slightly less than that pumped one year ago.

The following table will show the record at this station the past year.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM B. WEBBER,

Engineer.

THIRTY-NINTH ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

TRUSTEES OF THE PUBLIC LIBRARY.

Once again, after the lapse of somewhat more than two years, when we mourned the death of our librarian, Miss Bean, our report has to open with a record of sadness. Miss Amelia A. Woods, connected with our library almost from its beginning, and for the past few years its first assistant, died on the evening of February 5th at the Massachusetts Homœopathic Hospital, from a surgical operation, which was performed in the morning. Hers was a sunny and cheery disposition, which endeared her to all the patrons of the library, and won a deep place in the affection of a wide circle of friends. Cordial and winning in manners, devoted to her work, unselfish in her readiness to help, intelligent and yet appreciating direction, it will be a most difficult thing for this board to supply her place, if indeed it ever can. The position of an assistant librarian, with the requirements of the desk, in the delivery of books and furnishing information, is somewhat of a peculiar one, calling at all times for an affable disposition and an obliging temper. In these respects Miss Woods was wonderfully proficient, excelled by none. Latterly her more special work has been that of cataloguing and classifying, keeping up the list of accessions, and supervising the cards. Here, too, she had few equals. In a word, it may be said of her whole connection with the library, she knew her work and she did it well.

Our board of trustees has sustained also a great loss in the removal of the Rev. Howard N. Brown, who early in the autumn resigned from the First Parish Church, Brookline, to become the rector of King's Chapel, Boston. As a consequence of his change of residence he resigned from this board. He had lived in Brookline more than twenty years, and for the greater part of that time was one of the library trustees. As chairman of the library committee for several years, he brought a scholarly intelligence and devotion to his administration of affairs, which are well worthy of emulation. The board would thus put on record their appreciation of the labor he was always ready to give, and their profound regret that circumstances demanded a severance of relations always delightful and cordial.

There has been in our library a healthy and growing increase of constituents, and on our part, we hope, an earnest desire to meet all the demands which a large constituency implies. Rightly to carry on a public library, so as to make it productive of the greatest good, trained and skilled labor is essentially required. The day has long since passed when the meaning of a public library was simply a place where books might be obtained, and all that was needed was some one to give them out and receive them as they were returned. Now, literature clubs with their manifold researches, school children with their essays and compositions, and various individuals intent on acquiring some special information must find in the library those who are able and versed enough to guide them to their wants. We believe the standard which the times demand has been the past year steadily maintained, with the efficient corps of librarian and assistants enlisted in our service.

One great and apparently popular addition to our acquisitions has been the establishment of a department of music in the library. A considerable sum was appropriated for this in the first instance, and we have added to it as our funds would admit. It has been our endeavor, with the advice of those with perhaps a better musical knowledge and taste, to have none but the works of the best composers, except that now and again a production peculiarly popular and unobjectionable has been added. The circulation in this department proves the wisdom of introducing it as well as the appreciation of a music loving public.

There has been somewhat of a diminution in the number of suggestions which have, through the suggestion box, been made for new books. This is probably due to the fact of the library anticipating wants by the ready purchase of new books. Of one hundred and forty-seven requests, eighty-three were met, the balance refused, either because the book was already on our shelves, or a technical book, or one which was undesirable or worthless.

A number of duplicate works of fiction and other good reading volumes have been loaned to the reading-room in the Union Building, High street. The circulation of these among the patrons of that room has been abnormal; they are in constant use, and undoubtedly will prove a stimulus to many to patronize our library where so much more information can be so easily obtained. A little branch library has also been established in the Holyhood district, Hammond street. The increased circulation of our books, among the growing population of that part of the town, abundantly justifies this experiment made at only a trifling expense.

More particular information as to the past year's library work, and the statistics which accompany it, may be obtained from a perusal of the librarian's report hereto appended, and for which we ask a careful consideration.

REPORT OF THE LIBRARIAN.

BROOKLINE, February 1, 1896.To the Trustees of the Brookline Public Library:—

GENTLEMEN:—My third annual report, for the year ending January 31, 1896, is herewith respectfully submitted. I cannot recount the work of the year without referring to the death of Miss Woods, on February 5, 1896, although mention of it does not properly come within the date of this report. When I came to the library two years ago it seemed best to alter many of the methods which had more or less governed the library during the twenty-five years of her service. That she was in entire sympathy with much that was done, there is no doubt, but in every case, whatever were her opinions, she entered into the change with a loyalty and a whole-heartedness that made the work delightful instead of embarrassing. Hers would have been a most difficult task had she not had a kindly, helpful, sunny nature. She, more than anyone else, was associated in the minds of the public with the library. She looked upon the work as her life and not as her labor. The last thing that she said before she became too weak to sit up, was, "Let me go to the window and look over at the library once more." She had no thought that death was so near, but if she had been forewarned, her closing days of service could not have endeared her more truly in the hearts of those who knew her.

The Work of the Year.

The year has been marked by the establishment of a music department and by the opening of a delivery station at Chestnut Hill, each in its way destined, we hope, to broaden the influence of the library. Greater influence can be had only by a continual striving, both to develop interest along new lines, and to satisfy the varied demands which already exist in the community.

During the few weeks while the boys and girls have had unrestricted access to all the books in the children's room, thus necessarily doing away with the statistics of books used, there has been a larger attendance and better order. No permanent record has been kept this year of the "hall use" of books in the music library, the art cases and the genealogical alcove. There is also a constant unrecorded "hall use" of the books on the children's shelf during those hours when the children's room is closed. By doing away with all permanent record of books used within the library, we believe that there will be a truer incentive to work, based simply upon a desire to be helpful.

Accessions.

The catalogue of accessions for the year records 1,873 volumes and 354 pamphlets, besides a number of photographs and over one hundred manuscripts.

Books added by purchase	1,384
" " " gift	259
" " " binding periodicals	230
Total	1,873

Of the books purchased (1,384) there were 60 to replace books withdrawn, leaving a gain in new books of 1,324.

New books added	1,324
Gifts added	259
Bound periodicals added	230
Net gain	1,813
Number of volumes in the library (1895)	41,955
Number of volumes in the library (1896)	43,768

Circulation.

The statistics for the library year of 304 days show the following figures :

Home use (desk account)	85,290
Home use (trustees' account)	1,503
Home use (special privilege)	242
Home use (reference books over night)	86
Union Reading Room	1,126
Chestnut Hill station (three months)	386
Total home use	88,633
Library use (on hall slips)	4,052
Total home and hall use	92,684
Library use (children's reading room)	19,544
Total registered use	112,228

The total circulation for home use exceeds that for last year by 5,411, and for use in the library by 2,721, or in all an increase in circulation of 8,132 over last year. There has been an increase in circulation for home use during the last two years of 30.5 per cent. The average number of books circulated to each inhabitant (home use) was 5.4 against 5.2 last year.

The average daily circulation for home use was 291; the average for home and hall use, including books used in the children's reading-room was 369. The largest circulation in one day, February 23, was 715; the second largest, January 25, was 686, against 536, the largest last year. The circulation for March was 9009, slightly less than for March of last year, when the two-book system was first introduced. That the total circulation for the year is materially greater than for last year proves that although the novelty of taking two books has gone, the real value of the privilege is appreciated.

This year 510 new cards have been issued to borrowers, making a total of 7062 names now registered. Some of these names, however, represent borrowers who have left the town or have died. Whenever possible, their names are being removed from the register; 203 cards have been returned to the library and destroyed this year. The library has sent 3,723 notices for books overdue. A word about them appears later in the report. The sum of $411.22 has been collected in fines. The record of books bound and rebound is 765. During the year 6,909 volumes of fiction were covered, against 2,678 last year, and against 12,505 the year before.

The Music Library.

Following the example of some of the more progressive libraries, the trustees in June voted to establish a music department in the library. After consulting with a number of citizens in the town, a list of musical works was prepared which was as representative as the sum appropriated for the purpose would allow. Some publishers added to the collection by their gifts. The books are open to inspection daily and the continued expressions of appreciation have encouraged the board to add to the collection as fast as the funds will permit. The circulation for the six months—August to February—was 994. A number of the 200 volumes in the music library are gifts, now old and comparatively worthless, so that it may fairly be said that if the circulation of the new books purchased for this department were apportioned equally among them each book would be found to have gone out every month since its foundation, while in the main library each book goes out on an average once in six months.

The late Mr. D. W. Russell, soon after the music library was opened, expressed to the trustees his wish to contribute one hundred dollars to the library, the income to be used for the purchase of music. He died before making the gift, but his widow, Mrs. D. W. Russell, and her son, Mr. Frank A. Russell, have carried out his wishes; and in the future the addition of one or more books each year to the music library will testify to Mr. Russell's love for music and his interest in the Public Library.

Chestnut Hill Delivery Station.

A delivery station was started at Mr. Lynch's store, on the corner of Hammond and Boylston streets, in November. In that part of Brookline there are some two hundred people who must depend entirely upon the railroad for their connection with the village. New houses are constantly being built, and thus a wider field is being opened for the library's usefulness. Mr. Lynch has refitted and rearranged the store for the convenience and comfort of the public, and the circulation of books in that part of the town—386 for three months—is as large as could be expected. Mr. James Driscoll has undertaken to do the expressage at a very moderate charge until the success of the undertaking is assured.

Union Reading Room.

In March, fifty duplicate copies of books already in the library were loaned to the Union Reading Room, and later twenty-five more added. At the same time the trustees voted to allow Mr. Fletcher to keep twenty-five books for a month at a time, it being their intention to treat the Union

Reading Room as a branch of the library. Mr. Fletcher reports a circulation in home use of these books of 1,126 during the year. It cannot be doubted that the books are doing great good, and that the Union Reading Room, from its location, reaches many young men east of the railroad track who do not come to the library.

Schools.

In October, a circular was printed giving the rules and privileges of the library, which are of interest to teachers and students. Teachers' cards were printed to take the place of the book register. All the pictures which are exhibited on the picture-board from time to time are being mounted for use by the teachers in schools. For teachers, as well as for others in the town, interested in special lines of work, postal cards were printed on which the librarian sends from time to time notices of current magazine articles. Our desire to loan books to schools at a distance has not been fully successful as yet.

The Children's Reading-Room.

The management of the children's room has been a problem of growing difficulty. The restriction to two books to each child in an afternoon, while it enforces a more careful reading of the books, requires on a busy day the entire time of the assistant in charge, and leaves him no opportunity to enforce order. As it seemed impossible to increase the staff of the library at this time, it was thought best to place the books in groups about the room within reach of the young people, leaving the attendant free to give his whole time to the preservation of some measure of quiet. Whispering, however, is always allowed.

On the second day after the books were placed about the room, although no public notice of the change had been given, every chair was filled, every settee that could be brought in was quickly occupied, and still the aisles were packed by children. A few days later The Chronicle said: "Despite the fact that they are allowed to take what they please from the shelves, there is no disorder, no quarreling, but a happy, easy feeling of personal pride and ownership, that is much to be admired and encouraged."

In time, a larger, warmer room in the front part of the building should be provided for the children. Members of the police department have commented on the great value of the library's work in keeping children off the streets. With the exception of a few weeks at the end of the year, the usual statistics of books read were kept. By an underestimate for these weeks to complete the year, we find that 19,544 books have been examined by 12,239 children, over 2,000 more children having used the room this year than in 1895, or a gain of 20 per cent. In the future, only the number of children visiting the room will be recorded, and thus the number of books read will form no part of our circulation. This is in harmony with the spirit of the work, which has been to make the books widely useful, regardless of statistics and (as much as possible) of formalities.

Overdue Books.

The library custom of sending a notice on the day following the date on which a book became due, led to a common practise of waiting for a notification before returning the book. Over 7,000 postal cards were directed last year, occupying an appreciable part of an attendant's time each day.

It has seemed wise, therefore, to send a notice only after a book has remained overdue seven days. As each book and each card is dated, the system does not seem unfair to borrowers. This change was introduced in June, and the total number of notices for the year is 3,723.

Special Lists.

The fiction list appeared in June, and has been very useful. The first edition of 500 copies (sold at the nominal price of ten cents in paper covers to residents) will soon be exhausted. The new edition will contain a number of minor improvements.

Lists of books and articles suitable for Memorial day and Christmas day have been printed, and copies were sent to teachers in public and private schools. Lists relating to other holidays will follow.

A catalogue of the music library, a list of Massachusetts local histories, and a list of recent books for the summer vacation are now ready.

Picture Board—Events of the Day.

These two bulletin boards have been kept filled with pictures, notices, and lists. The Bookman, from its timely portraits of literary people, has been drawn upon freely. Groups of portraits, such as the Peel family, at the time of the resignation of Speaker Peel, and of the Walter family, proprietors of the London Times, have attracted attention. The time-tables, banking hours, weather bulletins and lists of novels approved by the Massachusetts Library Club fiction committee have been frequently consulted. By offering these conveniences we hope to extend the work of the library.

The Exhibition.

An exhibition of magazine and book posters was held in a vacant room of the library from February 11th to the 20th. Publishers and private collectors offered us generous assistance, and helped to give the collection that educational value which was the aim in view. The exhibition brought many citizens to the library who had never visited the building before, and if, as was said at the time, this was the first one held in New England, it helped to promote a more critical taste and to cultivate new powers of observation.

Gifts.

The collection of manuscripts given to the library by the Misses Clark are of great and permanent value to the student of local history and colonial customs. Partial lists will be found in the Library Bulletin for April, 1895, and in the second and fourth publications of the Brookline Historical Publication Society.

Another collection of early financial papers of the town has been given to the library, including autographs of Isaac Gardner and other citizens of revolutionary times.

Mr. W. D. Searle has given to the library over 100 volumes during the year, including Winsor's Memorial History of Boston, a most useful duplicate.

Mr. C. M. Barrows contributed the early volumes of the Literary World, a set which we had been trying for years to obtain. Mr. J. Elliot Cabot has given McKenney's History of the Indian tribes of North America. A list of many other persons who have made valuable contributions to the library will be found appended to this report.

Minor Matters.

A fine example of a military commission, granted by Thomas Hutchinson, Governor of Massachusetts under the Crown, and engraved by Nicholas Hurd, and a continental note, printed from a plate engraved by Paul Revere, have been framed and hung in the waiting room. A third interesting addition to our walls is a tracing made by Dr. S. A. Green of the Massachusetts Historical Society from the MS. of John Winthrop's Journal, giving the first known reference to Muddy River or Brookline.

A number of shelves in the reading room have been filled with pictures and memorials of early Brookline history. Many of our own citizens as well as strangers have enjoyed examining this collection. The Clark collection of manuscripts has been mounted on manilla sheets and many of the documents have been carefully repaired. During occasional moments of leisure, chiefly in the summer, a number of old Brookline papers which could not be obtained for the library and were liable to be burned at any time were copied. As No. 4 of the Brookline Historical Publication Society pamphlets, the papers will aid the future historian.

Many useful books have been placed in the reference and reading rooms, and improvements in card and shelf cataloguing have been made as opportunity offered.

By exchanging our duplicate pamphlets we have secured two sets of magazines which will add to the value of Poole's Index, the Chautauquan, and the Magazine of American History.

Conclusion.

The success of any library depends largely on the skill and tact of those at the desk, who are constantly in touch with the public. The work of the attendants has been well supplemented by the quickness and courteousness of the High School boys, John T. Floyd and Walter D. Allen, who have helped them.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

The School Committee of the town of Brookline herewith submit their annual report for the year closing February 1, 1896. The members of the board as now constituted, with the dates when their terms of service expire, are indicated on the opposite page.

During the year the town has been deprived of the valuable services of Mr. George N. Carpenter, whose interest in the work of the committee, whose excellent judgment and judicious counsels, had won the regard of every member. His death occurred July 8, 1895, after a long and painful illness. Suitable action was taken by the board at the time, and by many organizations with which he had been connected, but we desire to place on record our high appreciation of his character and our sense of the loss which not only this board and the town, but the friends of our public schools generally, have sustained. The vacancy was filled in a convention of the School Committee and the Selectmen, held September 30, 1895, when Judge James R. Dunbar was chosen to fill the vacancy for the remainder of the year.

Immediately after the annual meeting the committee organized by the election of Mr. William H. Lincoln as chairman, and Mr. William T. R. Marvin as secretary.

The following sub-committees were appointed :

HIGH SCHOOL — Wm. T. R. Marvin, John D. Runkle, Aaron H. Latham.

GRAMMAR SCHOOLS — William H. Lincoln, Michael Driscoll, Mrs. Annie E. Crane.

PRIMARY SCHOOLS — Frederick B. Percy, George N. Carpenter, Mrs. Elizabeth Cabot.

TEACHERS — William H. Lincoln, Mrs. Elizabeth Cabot, George N. Carpenter.

FINANCE — Michael Driscoll, William H. Lincoln, Aaron H. Latham.

MUSIC — Mrs. Annie E. Crane, Michael Driscoll, Frederick B. Percy.

INDUSTRIAL SCHOOLS — John D. Runkle, Michael Driscoll, Mrs. Elizabeth Cabot, Mrs. Annie E. Crane, William H. Lincoln.

EVENING SCHOOLS — Aaron H. Latham, Michael Driscoll, William T. R. Marvin.

PHYSICAL CULTURE — Frederick B. Percy, George N. Carpenter, Mrs. Elizabeth Cabot.

The vacancies in these committees, caused by the death of Mr. Carpenter, were subsequently filled by the appointment of Mr. James R. Dunbar.

The usual statistics will be found on a subsequent page of this report.

The principal event of the year has been the completion and occupation of the new High School building, which was dedicated to its uses in November last. Some description of this building and of its admirable adaptation to the work of the school will be given in another place in this report. The work of the Manual Training School has made satisfactory advance; the forges have been fitted up, and the course of study has been extended, so that graduates from the grammar schools can carry still further the practical studies for which this school aims to make provision. One new kindergarten has been opened, and is temporarily occupying quarters in the new High School. For particulars in regard to these matters, also, reference is made to the accompanying reports of the Superintendent and the committee on industrial training.

The purchase of a lot for a new school-house on Druce street has been completed, and, under the appropriation made by the town, plans for a new building there are in preparation, by Messrs. Cabot, Everett & Mead. A petition was received, in the autumn of 1895, from a number of citizens, asking for additional accommodations in the neighborhood of Hammond street. A similar request was also made to the town, which was by vote referred to this board for consideration. After examining the matter, the board came to the conclusion that such a building was not yet needed. In the meantime arrangements have been made for conveying the younger pupils of the primary school and of the kindergarten who reside in that vicinity, from the corner of Heath and Hammond streets by barges to and from the Heath School. This will temporarily provide for such pupils. An appropriation for this purpose will be asked for at the approaching annual meeting.

The sanitary condition of all the school buildings has received attention during the year, and extensive repairs have been made at the Parsons School, and elsewhere as needed. No causes for complaints have been found in the other buildings, except in the Heath School.

Steps have also been taken by the board to provide fire-alarm boxes in most of the school buildings; a monthly fire-drill has been ordered, and the teachers and janitors directed to acquaint themselves with the location of the nearest fire-alarm boxes, so that no time may be lost in any emergency. Several of the buildings have been connected with the Superintendent's office through the telephone, resulting in a great saving of time in cases requiring immediate attention.

The usual statistics of attendance, assignment of teachers, etc., are given in tabular form on another page.

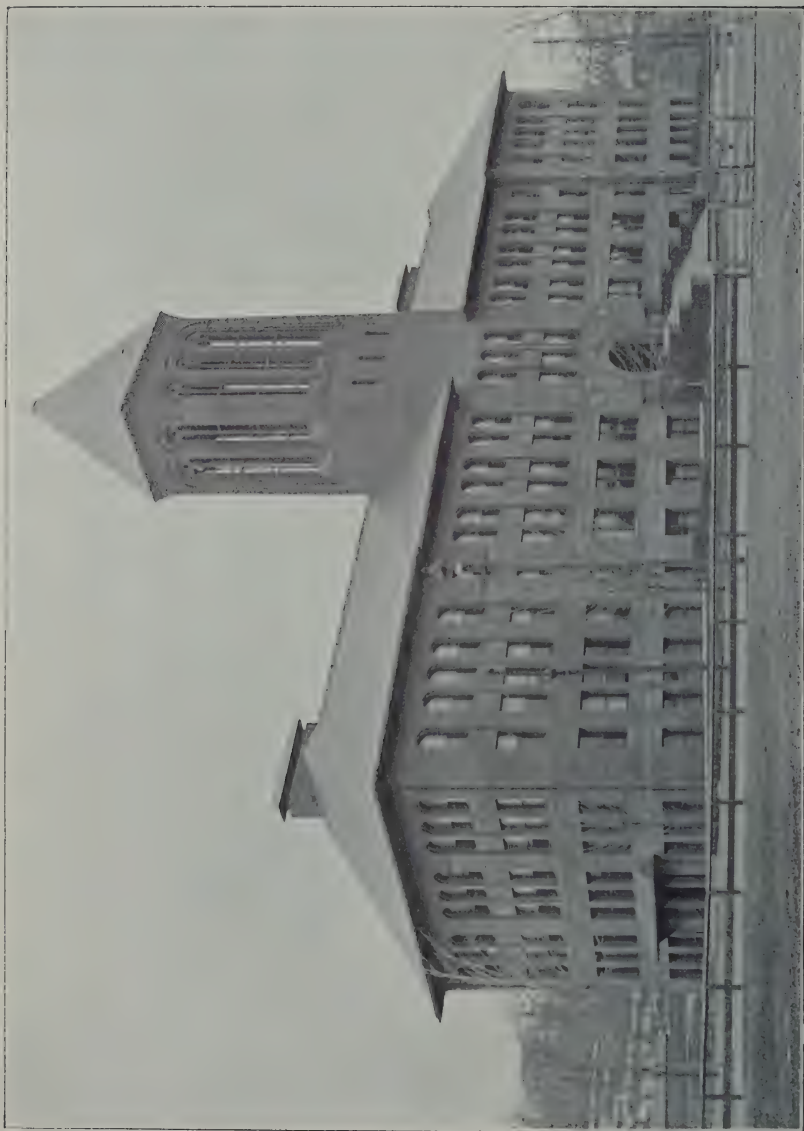

Changes in Teachers.

During the year, leave of absence without pay has been granted to several of our teachers who have served us long and faithfully. Miss Lamprey of the Lincoln School, Miss Joyce of the Winthrop School, and Miss H. A. Smith of the Longwood School, are still away. The others, after a shorter period, have now returned and resumed their work.

The following resignations have been received: Mr. Richardson, late principal of the Lincoln School, to accept a position as superintendent in another town; Miss Frances A. Darrah, to take a position in St. Margaret's School in Buffalo; Mrs. Lindsey, of the High School, to accept one with more responsibility and an advanced salary elsewhere; Mr. Nicholson, temporarily employed in the High School last year, has completed his work with us; Miss H. M. Walker, teacher of cooking, has gone to Denver, where she receives a considerably larger salary. Of the other teachers who have resigned, Miss Edith C. Monroe, Miss I. Maude Powers, Miss Georgiana Hutchinson, Miss Abbie A. Hoyt, Miss Mary A. Kelley, Miss Louise W. Pray, Miss Harriet S. Jenks, and Miss Mary A. O'Hearn, have gone to other positions as teachers, or have left us because of their marriage.

Miss Sarah M. Chamberlain has been appointed to a new class in the Manual Training School; and Miss S. Anna Woodberry, instructor of manual training in the Lawrence, Pierce, and Devotion schools; Miss Anna M. Warren has been transferred from the Sewall to the Lincoln School; Mrs. Lander is now in charge as acting principal of the Lincoln School, succeeding Mr. Richardson; Mr. Edward P. Hutchinson has been placed in charge of the Manual Training School; and Miss M. M. Everett, in charge of the domestic science department in the High School. Various other appointments and changes are noted in the tabular statements, which need not be repeated here.

In the High School, the increased number of pupils has required some increase in the corps of teachers; Miss Annie B. Tomlinson has taken some of the classes, and Miss Adams is assisting in the clerical work and as librarian there. The interest felt by our citizens in the work of this school has been manifested in many ways, but especially by liberal gifts of money and apparatus; of photographs, pictures, etc., for the art rooms, and of books for the library. Mr. George W. Armstrong presented the committee with his check for one thousand dollars, the largest individual gift which has been made to the town for educational purposes for many years. This fund is in honor of his daughter, Mrs. Shepard, who was educated at our High School, and is to be expended in the purchase of works of art for that school. Mr. Jerome Jones has given us a large and valuable collection of pictures, photographs, etc., handsomely framed, which not only adorn the walls of the building, but are of great use in historical study; while Mr. Edmund Dwight has again laid us under deep obligations by a second gift of choice photographs and engravings for our art rooms; Miss Ethel Hill presented the bust of Zeus, of heroic size, and the group of "Singing Boys," also for the art room. Other gifts have been received from liberal friends for the same purpose, who desire that their names shall not be mentioned, but who have received the sincere thanks of the committee. The board will gratefully welcome further additions to the equipment of this or any of our schools, in the way of pictures, books of reference, photographs and the like, which they would not feel justified in purchasing from the funds placed in their charge by the town, but which would be of the greatest value in elevating the artistic taste, and in increasing the facilities for historical study. It is intended to publish a more particular account of the gifts hereafter. The Superintendent, the Master of the school and the members of the committee will always be ready to consult or advise with any of our citizens who may desire to follow the excellent examples which have been given during the year.

New High School Building.

The Brookline High School was erected under the supervision and from the plans of Andrews, Jaques & Rantoul, architects, which were selected out of nine presented in a limited competition, as offering the best solution of the problem.

The building is constructed of red eastern pressed brick, trimmed with Maynard sandstone, and in some cases moulded brick, with a high basement and three other stories. The roof is covered with slate and has wide projecting eaves. A tower rises in the centre of the front, to a height of 165 feet, from the sidewalk to the apex of the roof.

The main, or teachers' entrance, is placed in the center of the façade underneath this tower, and is approached by a wide flight of twenty-eight steps. The entrances for pupils are at the north and south ends of the building, on the basement level. These entrances are placed at the ends of a wide corridor, which runs throughout the length of the building, a distance of 240 feet. On this floor are placed the gymnasiums and the general toilet and dressing rooms. The central portion of this hall is occupied as a lunch room during the noon recess.

The heating and ventilating plant is placed in the basement of the central wing of the building, on the rear. From the basement corridor, near the entrances, staircases of iron with oak treads lead directly up to the third story. These are eight feet wide throughout.

The first floor is occupied by six class rooms and four recitation rooms, the latter being placed in the central wing on the rear, over the boiler rooms and underneath the Assembly Hall.

The second floor contains four class rooms, one recitation room and a suite of rooms which includes the library, reception room, head master's room, and teachers' room. In the central wing, on the rear, is the Assembly Hall, which measures in extreme dimensions 61x76 feet. This room extends through two stories, and is provided, as usual, with a stage, and a gallery approached from the third floor corridor.

The third floor is devoted to art rooms and laboratories, and there is also a physical lecture room about forty feet square on this floor.

The staircases, before alluded to, are placed against the outside wall of the building, and are admirably lighted throughout. In close connection with the staircases are placed the two plumbing towers, which are each divided into four stories above the basement, thus giving toilet rooms on each floor for the pupils of both sexes, and also a special floor devoted solely to use of the teachers. The top floor of these towers is devoted to various purposes in connection with the rooms they adjoin, and are not toilet rooms.

In construction the building is not fireproof, although well calculated to resist the progress of fire. All bearing walls are of brick, and all upright partitions are of hollow terra cotta blocks built upon iron beams. The floor joists are hard pine, built into brick walls. The ceilings are stoutly plastered on wire lathing throughout, and an inch of plaster is laid between the upper and under floors. The exterior walls are lined with hollow brick and are furred and plastered, attention being particularly paid to fire-stopping in this work. The framing of the roof is wood, and the attic is left entirely unfinished.

The building is heated by steam. A large coil is placed in the basement, through which outside air is drawn by a fan and forced into ducts leading to the rooms throughout the building. This air is introduced into the rooms at a height of eight feet, and drawn out in ducts opening at the floor. These latter are provided with a coil of steam pipe to accelerate the upward motion of the air. A special fan is placed over the ceiling of the Assembly Hall to further the ventilation of that room. This arrangement permits the ventilation of the hall during those days of spring and summer when the main heating and ventilating plant is not running. In each important room auxiliary coils of steam pipe are introduced on the outside walls beneath the windows, for use at special times. The temperature in each room is governed by a thermostat.

The building is finished throughout in red oak, a wainscot five feet high running throughout the corridors and three feet high in the rooms. The floors are of Georgia hard pine, the baseboards being curved out at the bottom to meet the floor.

The building is lighted chiefly by electricity, although gas is introduced at essential points, in case of failure of the electric light. The building has no special lighting plant of its own.

New Grammar School Building.

The committee have called the attention of the town to the desirability of a new building to take the place of the present Pierce Grammar School building, both in their annual reports and on public occasions, and we feel that the time has now arrived when immediate action should be taken.

The Superintendent of Schools in his report last year, alluded to this subject in the following words, which express our views:—"The Pierce Grammar School has well served its day and generation, but like an ancient castle, it is stronger in its traditions than in its present utility. Were the building to be examined and its fitness measured by modern standards it would be found to fall far short of what could be desired." This statement in a few words puts the matter in a clear light, and it does not seem necessary to add anything more. Suffice it to say, that the pupils of this school do not enjoy the facilities and privileges that are afforded in our other grammar schools, and we regard this as an important school, second to none in the town. Its location is all that could be desired, in the center of the most populous district and surrounded by the most important public buildings.

The removal of this building naturally suggests other changes which it may not be out of the province of this report to name. For several years the subject of a change in the site of the Police Station has been a vexed question before the town, and several plans have been proposed, none of which have met the public approval.

The building now occupied by the Pierce Primary School could be easily transformed to meet the requirements of a Police Station and Court House, and would well serve such a purpose, both in respect to its location and the accommodations that could be afforded. This would dispose of that question, and a new Primary School building could be erected upon the land already owned by the town, near the site of the present grammar school, or between the old High School building and School street. It has been suggested that the town might purchase the land at the junction of School and Washington streets, thus extending the large lot now owned by the town, to the benefit of the Public Library building, and making a general public improvement. The Primary School building could be placed in this portion of the lot, affording space for a playground, and improving the appearance of this part of the town where are concentrated the principal public buildings.

We think such a scheme will commend itself, and is certainly entitled to thoughtful consideration. There is need for additional playground in connection with these schools, especially for the Pierce Primary, as the sidewalk in front of the building affords the only space for this purpose.

If the town does not wish to go to the expense of purchasing so much land, and it is not a necessity, a site for the proposed new Primary School building can be found near the old High School building, and the purchase of the Mathews estate adjoining would afford all the land that would be necessary. It would be necessary first to construct the Primary School, and when completed take down the Grammar School building and erect another upon or near the present site. In this way the Grammar School pupils could occupy the Primary building until their own building was ready for use; otherwise they could not be accommodated. This, of course, would delay the surrender of the Primary School for police purposes, but it is absolutely necessary that suitable provision be made for the pupils of the two schools while the new buildings are in process of construction. It is possible some better plan may be devised.

While the character of that portion of the town in the vicinity of the railroad station and on a portion of Washington street will doubtless undergo important changes in the future in respect to its use for business and similar purposes, yet the location proposed for enlarged school accommodations will always serve a large population and be easily accessible. It would therefore seem to be a wise policy to make provision for the future as proposed, and we hope the town will take early action upon this important subject.

Old High School Building.

At the request of the committee the town appropriated the sum of two thousand dollars for the purpose of making necessary changes in the old High School building and furnishing offices for the Superintendent of Schools and the School Committee, and we take this opportunity to return our thanks to the town for this generous act. Five rooms have been provided and furnished, as follows: School Committee room, of ample dimensions and well lighted; Superintendent's private office; and spacious room adjacent for the use of citizens, the Truant Officer,—whose time is also occupied in other important duties relating to the school, since truancy has almost become a thing of the past,—and the Clerk of the Superintendent; a room for text-books, writing material and general supplies for the schools, which is very useful and quite indispensable; and a room for the use of the teachers, in which has been collected and placed at their disposal a pedagogical library; this is in constant demand and proves to be a great benefit. In fact, as we think of the past and picture to ourselves the one room, with its one window, that served all these purposes, it is amazing that we were enabled to conduct the administration of the schools with any degree of efficiency. Equipped as we now are for the important duties devolving upon us, the work can be prosecuted with pleasure, as well as success. The public can scarcely appreciate the great advantages which will accrue to the cause of education by reason of the superior facilities that are now enjoyed.

A large room was also fitted for a kindergarten school, which was transferred from the Pierce Primary,—a desirable change.

The second floor is used for the Evening school. The money has been well and judiciously expended, and those interested are cordially invited to inspect the various departments.

Conclusion.

As we review the work of the past year, it is most gratifying to note the progress and development which have taken place along certain lines of study. No important changes have been introduced, but the nature of the work has been rather to expand and perfect certain branches, especially in the departments of science and art.

The results have been most surprising, and have revealed in a striking and convincing manner the natural capacity and desire of children at an early age for the study of Nature in its manifold operations and wonderful changes. The influence of such studies upon the minds and character of the young, can hardly be appreciated.

The work that has been so successfully prosecuted in our schools has excited much attention and called forth expressions of wonder and admiration, so that the schools of this town have obtained a national reputation, and the cause of education generally advanced. But we realize the fact that our chief concern and purpose must be to educate the children of this community, and this thought and desire should occupy the first place and command our earnest and united effort.

The expense of maintaining our schools is large; but is not this the true and vital question, Are the results commensurate with the expense? It is true that the children of Brookline enjoy exceptional and unusual advantages in the public schools, and your committee have believed such was the desire of its citizens. The character of the public schools has doubtless enhanced the value of real estate and contributed much to its material prosperity, and, what is of far greater importance, has stimulated an interest in the cause of education itself, and elevated the thought and aspiration and the tone of the entire community.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

To the School Committee of Brookline:—

In this, my sixth annual report, I propose to limit myself to a brief recital of the principal events of the past year. The general theory upon which we are working has been repeatedly stated, and some things affecting our organization were treated at length last year. It will be sufficient at present to speak of the features of our school work that are distinctly new, and to report upon the practical working of the various departments.

The work in all grades has gone forward steadily and smoothly. Nothing unpleasant has happened to disturb or hinder us. Teachers have shown an increasing strength and zeal, and parents have been exceptionally considerate and helpful. The completion of the High School building, the furnishing of offices for the School Committee and Superintendent in the old building, the formation of the Education Society for the purpose of uniting the home and the school, and the Training Class for College Graduates, have given a certain distinction to the past year, and promise great benefits in the future.

Health in the Schools.

The fact that certain schools have suffered from contagious diseases should be regarded as no reflection upon those schools or their appointments. The primary cause of these epidemics is undoubtedly to be sought either in the homes or in their surroundings; but the close contact of children, one with another in school, renders it possible for such diseases to be easily communicated, and imposes upon school authorities the necessity of taking every possible precaution to prevent contagion. The Board of Health has shown its promptness and efficiency by the isolation of all cases of malignant diseases as soon as discovered, and by the adoption of rules that prevent children from the same family or the same house attending school. As an extreme measure, the board has advised the closing of certain schools for brief periods. The daily inspection of the schools by physicians during the existence of an epidemic has proven to be a wise preventive measure. Among the steps taken the past year to reduce the danger of infection, has been the abolition from the schools of slates and sponges, the furnishing of individual pencils, and for the most part of individual books for reading. The request made recently by the Board of Health that pupils be asked to provide small towels and drinking cups for personal use, has also been communicated to the teachers, and by them to the pupils. To this request a large number have responded. The ladies of the School Committee, with the Superintendent, met the janitors in December, and discussed the possibility of using a solution of soda for the thorough cleansing of the floors, desks, door-knobs, etc. The experiment was tried during the holiday vacation, and when the schools opened in January the buildings presented an unusually cleanly appearance. The question how often this process shall be applied has not yet been fully decided.

Much needed improvements have been made during the past year in the Parsons School.

The committee are all aware of the primitive and unsatisfactory condition of the sanitary appointments at the Heath School. Plans should be matured at once for providing what is needed, so that the work may be done during the summer vacation.

The plant for heating and ventilating the Manual Training building has been under criticism so long and the repeated attempts to improve it have fallen so far short of being successful, that I take pleasure in testifying to the willingness shown by the contractors, Messrs. Smith & Anthony, to do everything in their power to correct the defects, and in saying that at length the desired end appears to have been satisfactorily accomplished. The building is now made comfortable in every part.

Instruction.

Under this head may properly be included all the activities that make up the life of the school, as well as the work of teachers in making the conditions favorable for moral, physical and intellectual growth. "Instruction" means more than it once did. There was a time when it included little more than the hearing of lessons; gradually it came to embrace such explanations, comments, descriptions and questions as a wise teacher would desire to offer. During this stage, the discipline of the school, and all attempts at moral and physical training, were treated as distinct features. Latterly we are coming to believe that the school life, like all life, is a unit; that teaching includes not only the hearing and giving of lessons, but all those influences, seen and unseen, that affect the pupil for good or for evil, developing his body, shaping his character, sharpening his faculties, refining his feelings, and fostering the best life of which he is capable. In the light of such a conception of instruction, we get a truer notion of what education is, and what a teacher must be to meet the large demands now made upon her.

Our teachers appreciate the value of self-direction and self-government; hence less stress is laid upon what the pupils can be made to do by rules and commands, and more upon what they do by themselves and for themselves. It has sometimes been suggested that we do too much for the pupils. Others have thought that we were not ready enough to assist and explain. Doubtless both criticisms may have been applicable in certain cases; but in the main, I think the teachers have found the golden mean of doing neither too much nor too little; at least that is what we have striven for. In short, there is in most of our school rooms less of the letter that killeth, and more of the spirit that maketh alive, and all this is the teachers' work. It is instruction. If it be asked, "how about results?" we may say, follow the boys and girls that leave our schools, and see what account they render in their performance of duty in all the relations of life. There is no better way of fairly testing the value of any system of instruction and training.

During the past year considerable emphasis has been placed upon the distinction to be made between the mechanical or automatic side of instruction, and the development or culture side. In dealing with such matters as numerical computation, reading, spelling, punctuation, etc., rigorous drill is given until the reactions are prompt, and the habit of doing the thing is definitely fixed. On the other hand, in dealing with culture subjects, there is less repetition, but more attempts at vividness and forcible impression. Reviews that kill interest and make stupid what ought to electrify and delight the child, have been in the past a powerful consumer of time and vitality.

It has been found necessary to use the most direct, simple and straightforward methods of doing every kind of school work. This is well illustrated in the teaching of arithmetic, as well as geography. It also appears in the change from slanting to vertical writing, and once this method has been thoroughly gained, all written work can be examined and corrected with half the strain upon eye and nerve that has been occasioned in the past.

It does not seem desirable at this time to enter into particulars respecting the different branches of instruction, except, perhaps, manual training. The results in all subjects, including music, drawing, science and physical culture, improve with each succeeding year. Those teachers who come newly into the schools have to be diligent in studying the conditions, and in fitting themselves to do the work assigned.

The organization of this department is much improved by having one instructor do all the teaching required in the Lincoln School, while another is confined to the shop in the Lawrence School, which provides for boys from the Pierce and Devotion as well as the Lawrence.

Miss Woodberry, the instructor at the Lawrence School, is following the models used in the Sloyd Training School in Boston, conducted by Mr. Gustaf Larrson. Much attention is paid to accuracy of measurement, neatness of execution and finish. The results promise to be of a high order.

Mr. Owens is accomplishing work at the Lincoln School that is superior to that done there hitherto. The boys seem thoroughly interested, and work attentively and earnestly.

The department of manual training in the High School is gradually being organized under Mr. Edwin P. Hutchinson. As an equivalent to this provision for the boys, the Domestic Science Laboratory in the High School offers to the girls advanced instruction in cookery and emergency work. Miss M. M. Everett, from the Pratt Institute in Brooklyn, N. Y., has charge of this branch and devotes three days in each week to it. While this kind of training is comparatively new, and there are few examples of it to be seen, yet it is believed that the problem will be successfully solved here.

Miss Johnson is also working out a High School course in needle work.

The Education Society.

It has long been a dictum in the educational world that coöperation between the home and the school is of the first consequence. It has also been argued that the more intelligent the people of a community are, concerning the aims and methods of the schools, the better can the desired coöperation be secured.

The Brookline Education Society, which has grown up during the past year, and which now numbers nearly 500 members, is a realization of the proverb that "In union there is strength." This society, with its several committees, all studying the various problems that confront us, ready to assist as opportunity offers, the meetings for social intercourse and discussion, courses of lectures upon the most vital questions of the time,—all these forms of activity tend to give a certain trend to local sentiment and interest that cannot be too highly appreciated.

Many of those who have become active members of the society are persons carrying large responsibilities, and whose cares leave them little leisure, but they have entered heartily into the work, and are doing much to develop wisely the plans of the organization.

Already several other towns, attracted by what Brookline has done, have been induced to form similar associations. It will not be strange that if from this beginning a movement should be started which would result in the more thorough organization of communities throughout the country.

The Training Class.

It has not been unusual for a town to form a class of those desiring to become teachers, and to give them such training, theoretical and practical, as circumstances permit. But for the first time a training class was organized in Brookline last September, the members of which were graduates of college. From twelve who applied, eight were selected, all of whom had sustained high rank in scholarship.

The work assigned to the members of the class has been, first, observation and practice under direction; second, reading upon educational problems, and the preparation of a paper; third, attendance upon such weekly lectures and teachers' meetings as have been provided. The interest and diligence shown has been most commendable. Most of the young ladies are developing a good degree of teaching power, and are winning the good opinion of teachers and pupils. During the coming weeks a series of conferences will be held, at each of which a paper will be read by some member of the training class. The subject will then be discussed under the leadership of some person especially assigned for the occasion.

Doubtless several members of this class will find permanent employment in Brookline, and the others will certainly find fruitful occupation elsewhere. I desire to bespeak for this experiment the hearty approval and interest of the School Committee and the town.

The High School.

The most important achievement has been the completion of the new High School building. As it is in contemplation to publish hereafter a somewhat complete description of the building and its various appointments, I will refer only briefly here to the relation which the High School bears to the school system and to the community.

As concerns its curriculum, it should be regarded as a continuation of the grade work done below. As in passing from grade to grade, so our pupils enter the High School upon recommendation of their teachers, and virtually continue the studies they have already begun. This has become especially true since the introduction of Latin, French and algebra into the Grammar Schools. There need be no sensible break in the course, and a good degree of unity is possible.

The differentiation and specialization which attend all growth become more marked in these last four years of the school life. Moreover, the pupils are older, their intellectual powers are more mature, and they should be allowed some choice of studies in view of their special tastes and aptitudes. But college requirements exert a powerful influence in determining the quality and quantity of High School instruction—an influence that amounts almost to tyranny. The life of many of our secondary schools is narrowed to meet these requirements; and it needs courage of a high order to withstand the pressure which they tend to occasion.

Because of the facts which I have just mentioned, there is needed for High School purposes an equipment in respect to building, apparatus, teachers, etc., that is superior to any other. This you have furnished, and it is evident that the citizens of the town appreciate your liberal treatment of this problem. Under a continuation of this broad policy the school should rank with the best institutions of the kind in the country.

The Brookline High School should become, and is likely to become, a sort of Peoples' University, an educational, literary and art center, where young and old may go for mutual help and inspiration.

The generous gifts of works of art and books already made by several citizens should suggest to many others the grand opportunity here afforded to increase the efficiency of the High School.

In conclusion, permit me to express my sense of personal obligation to the committee and the citizens of Brookline for their considerate kindness during the five and one-half years I have served them. Nothing has contributed so much to the progress of the work as the confidence shown toward officers and teachers, and the freedom permitted them in the discharge of their duties. Moreover, the labors of the Superintendent have often been lightened by members of the committee who have been able and willing to give much time and toil in order that needed improvements might be accomplished. I must also testify to the loyalty and zeal shown by all principals and teachers.

Respectfully submitted,

SAMUEL T. DUTTON,

Superintendent of Schools.

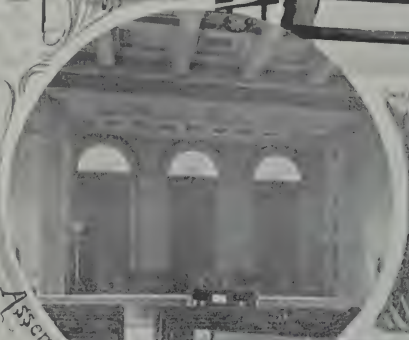

Such portions of the reports of the Head Master of the High School, and of some of the instructors in special departments, as will inform the citizens of the town concerning the work of the year and what has been accomplished, are appended.

Number in each class	I. 42; II. 49; III. 84; IV. 86
Number of special students	4
Proportion of scholars preparing for higher institutions	49 per cent.

The above statement shows two facts which are especially worthy of remark: First, that the proportion of college pupils is very large; secondly, that we have more boys than girls, which is quite unusual in a school of this grade.

Thirty-two students completed the course and received diplomas at the graduating exercises in June, 1895. An attractive musical programme was rendered by the school chorus and orchestra. Rev. Reuen Thomas, D. D., delivered an address upon “The Educational Outlook,” and the chairman of the School Committee presented the diplomas.

Eighteen of the graduates were admitted by examination or certificate to higher institutions:—6 to Harvard University, 2 to Williams College, 1 to Brown University, 1 to Tufts College, 1 to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, 1 to the Lawrence Scientific School, 1 to Radcliffe College and 5 to Smith College.

Prizes.

The winners of the J. Murray Kay prizes for the year 1894–95 were as follows:—

Historical Essays—Margaret E. May, Emily P. Locke.

Elocution—Girl’s prize, Olive M. Belches. Boy’s prize, Marshall Stearns.

The William H. Lincoln Medals.

For excellence in English—Gold medal, won by H. Percy Macomber.
 For excellence in German—Silver medal, won by Arthur W. Spencer.
 For excellence in Greek—Silver medal, won by Mildred R. Boody.
 For excellence in Physics—Silver medal, won by Frank L. Clark.
 For excellence in Mathematics—Silver medal, won by Philip R. Dunbar.

Growth and Character of the School.

The accompanying graphic charts, which were prepared by the secretary, Miss Tomlinson, reveal many interesting facts concerning the growth and character of the school.

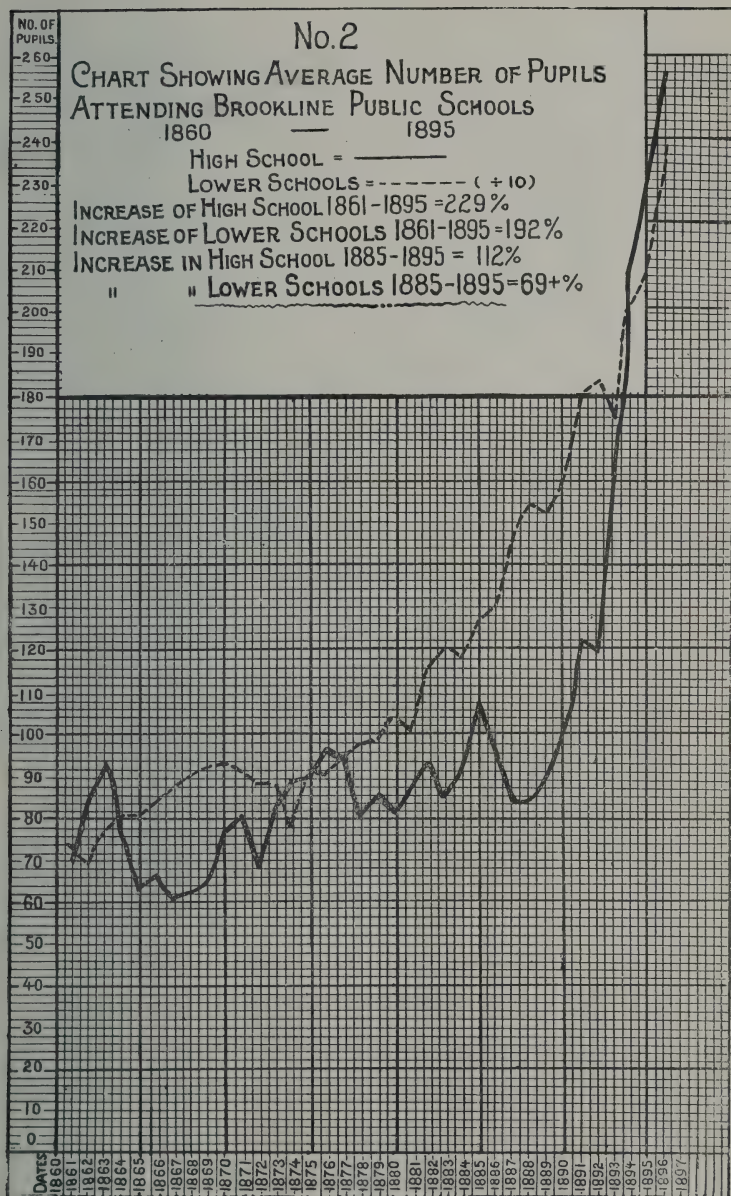

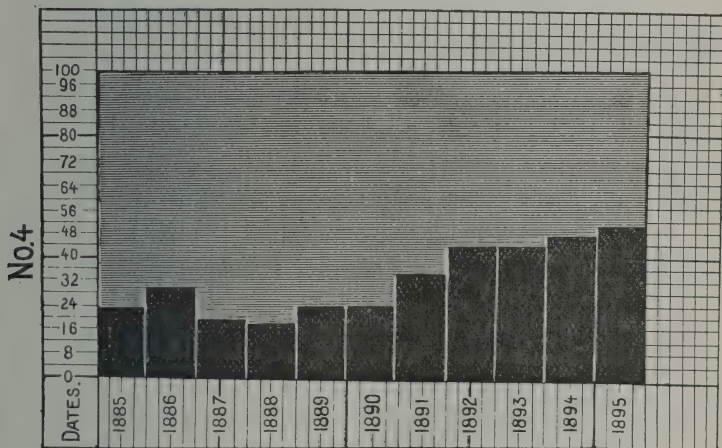

Chart 1 compares the increase in population of Brookline with the increase in total enrolment of high school pupils, and the increase in average number of pupils attending the High School. The population statistics are divided by 100, to bring the population line upon the same scale as the school lines. The increase in population for 1890-96 is based upon estimates. The enrolment and average attendance at the High School for 1896 is based upon the week ending January 31st.

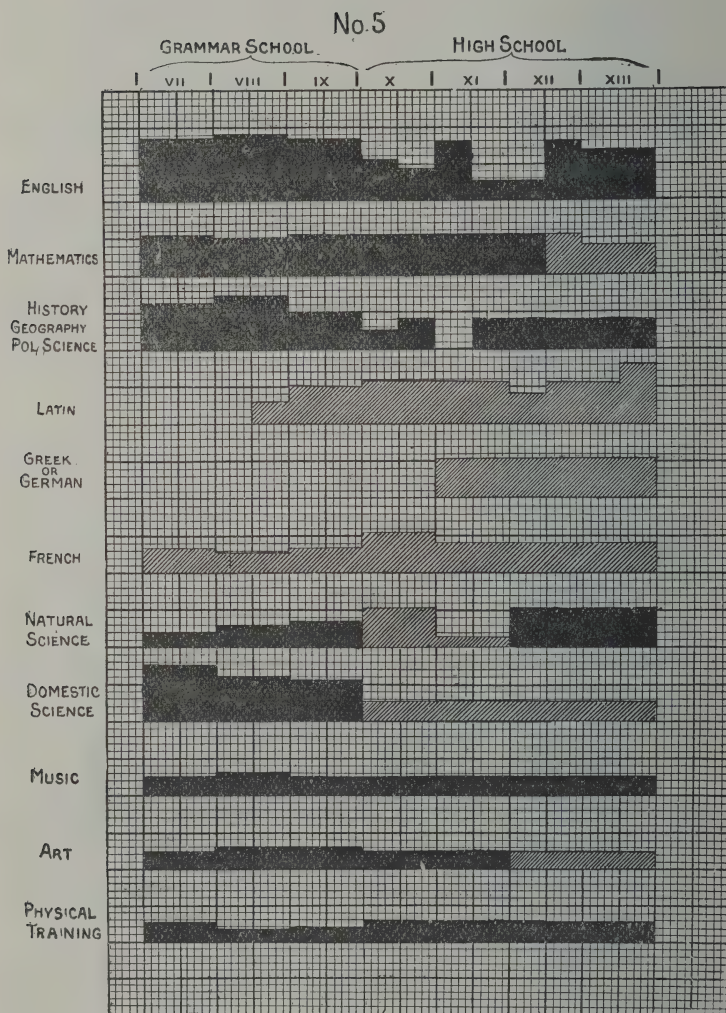

Chart 2 shows the average number of pupils attending the Brookline public schools for 1860-1895.

Chart 3 shows the falling off in membership of classes from year to year while in the High School, and discloses the fact that a much larger proportion than formerly are remaining to complete the course.

Chart 4 shows for a period of eleven years the percentage of the school preparing for higher institutions. It has steadily increased until now it represents about half of our pupils.

The proper recognition of this change in the character of the school, from one where but a few were prepared for college, to one where preparation for college and the technical school has assumed such proportions, is of supreme importance, if we are to continue to merit the confidence of the community. While the other side of the school should never be forgotten,—should, indeed, command our first and best thought,—the conditions governing the preparatory work should be made as nearly ideal as possible. Our success as a fitting school will depend largely upon an adequate and competent teaching corps, and a generous time allotment in which to meet the college requirements.

REQUIRED STUDIES:

ELECTIVE STUDIES:

Chart 5 well illustrates the duration and continuity of all subjects of the curriculum. The width of each stream is determined by the number of hours of recitation per week. In the High School the time devoted to preparation is relatively greater and the recitation periods are, in some instances, shorter, which accounts for the shrinkage in width of some currents. This is true of English and History. Domestic Science, on the contrary, receives the maximum of time in the seventh grade.

It will be seen at a glance that the boy who turns his face collegewards early, may cover a very considerable part of the journey before he enters the High School. With an opportunity to begin French in the seventh grade, Latin in the eighth grade, and elementary Algebra and Geometry in the ninth grade, he will no longer be at a disadvantage when compared with the boy attending a school which offers a six years' course in preparation for college.

The other requisite for a first-class school is a greater proportionate number of male teachers. The growth of the school, the unusually large percentage of boys and the increasing amount of college preparatory work, all justify such a recommendation.

New Courses.

By a vote of the committee the advanced Manual Training School, established a year ago last September, was consolidated with the High School at the beginning of the present year. It followed as a natural consequence that manual training, mechanical drawing and domestic science were offered as electives to all our students. To such of the boys as are preparing for higher technical schools, the first two will be of great value, enabling them to anticipate some of the prescribed shopwork. Domestic science has been very generally elected by pupils of every class, and bids fair to be still more highly prized when its aims are better understood.

There have been two classes in manual training,— the one made up of students from the third and fourth classes, fifteen in all, who devote six hours per week to pattern work and one and one-half hours to foundry work; the other, consisting of fourteen pupils from the first, second and third classes, who give one and one-half hours to pattern work two afternoons in the week. Twelve boys from the two upper classes have given one and one-third hours per week to mechanical drawing. In both of these courses the interest is well sustained.

Lectures.

The efforts of the teachers have been supplemented and the life of the school enriched by frequent addresses upon a great variety of topics. Among those who have spoken to our students have been Prof. Hugo K. Schilling, of Harvard University; Prof. Burt G. Wilder, of Cornell University; Rev. H. S. Nash, D. D., Miss Vida D. Scudder, and Mr. Osborne Howes.

Mr. Charles Carleton Coffin, Dr. Edward Everett Hale, Mr. William Lloyd Garrison, Mr. Charles C. Soule, Mr. Edwin D. Mead and Rev. Erastus Blakeslee have given an afternoon course of historical lectures, to which the grammar school children have been invited.

Besides these there have been the evening lectures of the Education Society and the High School Extension Course. The latter, for the present season, consists of two Shakespearean readings by Rev. Reuben Thomas, D. D.; three lectures on Spanish literature, by Judge Charles H. Drew; and Miss Weir's "History of Art" course.

D. S. SANFORD.

REPORT OF THE INSTRUCTOR OF DRAWING.

So full a report was made last year that it seems scarcely necessary to enter very fully into the details of the present year's work in art.

The plan upon which we are working is in general the same as that in use last year. In brief it is as follows: Through the autumn the topic is nature-study and drawing with brush and color, including both scientific and artistic rendering. This leads by natural sequence in November and December to the subject of design and decoration. Through the first winter month design is continued, and something of historic ornament in free brush work is introduced; three months of object drawing follows, not limited to the type solids, but including many simple familiar objects. Clear seeing, accurate rendering and ready, free expression are the motives. Through the spring and early summer the child is brought again face to face with Nature. * * * * As this is a report of what has been done, I would refer those who are interested in the results to the schools themselves, where the work of the children can be seen.

The art department of the High School has been greatly helped by its removal to larger quarters. It now has a well-lighted drawing-room, a small studio for advanced students, and an art room large and well-lighted and of pleasing proportions, which, it is hoped, may ultimately contain collections of casts, photographs, art books, prints, engravings, color prints, and a variety of beautiful objects suitable for such a purpose.

With such an equipment the art department of a high school might easily become an art center, not only for teachers and pupils, but for the larger life of the town. A beginning has already been made by gifts from three benefactors, of more than two hundred reproductions, including many Braun photographs of drawings and pictures by the great Italian masters, Giotto, Fra Angelico, Botticelli, Raphael, Leonardo da Vinci, Michael-angelo, Titian; and of the northern masters, Albert Dürer, Holbein, Rembrandt, and the Spanish Velasquez.

Photographs of English, French, and Italian cathedrals, and enlarged reproductions of American buildings and portraits of statesmen hang in the corridors.

Three large casts, a fine one of the Venus of Melos, the Winged Samothracian Victory, a bust of Zeus, and a group of Singing Boys by Donatello, form the beginning of a cast collection.

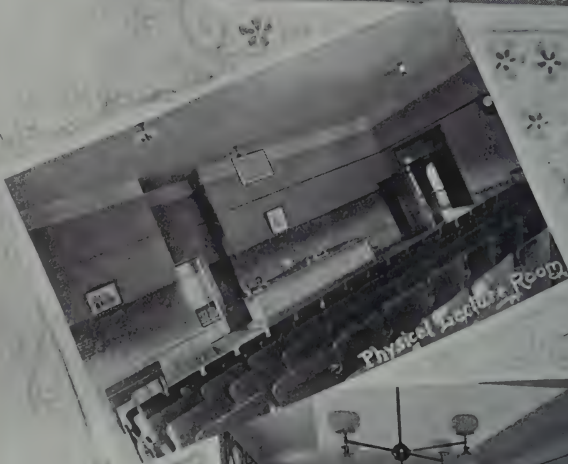

The work of the art department is carried on in practically the same lines as those planned last year. The drawing of objects in pencil, monochrome and color, and, in the spring, out-door sketching, occupy the first year.

Cast drawing in charcoal, pen and ink drawing, and later in the year a short course on the history of art, fill the second year.

The third and fourth years' work is elective. Cast drawing, design, and something of composition, are introduced. This with better classroom facilities can develop more fully after the present year.

My associate, Miss Annie B. Chamberlain, has been of invaluable assistance in developing the primary work in harmony with our larger methods, and in assisting in the High School work.

The interest and sympathy of the committee have helped our past efforts; to them we still look for appreciation and aid.

REPORT OF THE TEACHER OF MUSIC.

The Primary Schools.

It has long been felt that the music work of the primary schools was much more dry and uninteresting than it need be, but we have been compelled to choose between unintelligent rote singing and the use of material within the intelligence of the children, which is quite devoid of musical beauty. I have chosen, therefore, to continue the attempt to develop the musical intelligence at the expense of that which is more interesting, until we could obtain material better suited to the purpose.

Since the last report I have prepared a course of exercises for the first year in the primary school. There is a need for more material of this kind for the second- and third-year primary classes, but the demands of teaching have left neither time nor strength with which to pursue this work further.

The Grammar Schools.

In the primary classes and the lower grammar grades I have sought to give an increased interest to the music lessons by the introduction of songs culled from many sources and furnished to the individual scholars in an inexpensive form. In the upper grammar classes the same plan has been carried out, to some extent, but at this stage the music under study is of sufficient attractiveness in itself to prevent a loss of interest. All these efforts have been met with the heartiest coöperation on the part of the assistant music teacher and the regular teachers. As a result, I am able to report a deeper interest in the study of music throughout the schools than I have before seen.

AN EXHIBITION.

The regular teachers' meeting in March, 1895, was devoted to the interests of music. I made a brief address on this occasion, which was followed by an exhibition of some of the interesting possibilities of public school music. The first class from the Robert C. Winthrop School, Miss Anna M. Taylor, teacher, gave an example of the possibility of correlating music and nature study.

The third class from the same school, Miss Annie G. Molloy, teacher, gave an exhibition of intelligent two-part singing in a primary school, and closed with a performance of the "Statue Song."

The fourth class from the William H. Lincoln School, Miss Florence E. Sanderson, teacher, presented an illustration of clear enunciation with rapid singing in connection with the performance of a two-part song.

The fifth class from the same school, Miss Matilda B. Doland, teacher, illustrated the correlation of music study and physical exercises in the performance of motions and songs from "Musical Gestures," by Dr. J. E. Bridge, organist and choirmaster of Westminster Abbey.

The sixth class from the Pierce School, Miss Adeline Dodge, teacher, presented a composition on Mendelssohn, following it with a performance of one of his songs arranged for three voices. The eighth and ninth classes from the same school, Miss Harriet R. Palmer and Miss Mary McSkimmon, teachers, presented an historic paper, connecting contemporaneous political events with the life of the great composer, John Sebastian Bach, followed by the singing of a chorale from the "Passion Music." The eighth and ninth classes from the Lawrence School, Miss Sarah E. Bruce and Miss Elizabeth W. Bean, teachers, presented a paper on "Good Music," and illustrated it by rendering selections from the prescribed course of study, thus proving that grammar school children can understand and appreciate that which is worthy and dignified in music. At the graduating exercises of this school last June, one of the graduates presented a paper on "England's Progress," which was followed by the singing of "St. George for England," and one of Shakespeare's sonnets worthily set to music, thus correlating music with history and literature.

The High School.

The music study in the High School has been pursued this year under somewhat discouraging conditions. Nevertheless, we have done our best to recover from this loss since the school became fairly settled in the new building. The orchestra is in good condition, and is larger than ever. I wish to see an orchestra in the High School which shall be complete in all its parts. Enough has already been accomplished to prove that such an effort can succeed under suitable conditions. We are indebted to Mr. William H. Lincoln for a fine set of clarinets which are being played by two young ladies, who are growing rapidly in efficiency. We have the players for other instruments, but no instruments, nor the means of obtaining them.

It is my conviction that public school music is yet to attract the attention of our best musicians, and greatly to uplift the musical, moral and political interests of our country. Toward this end, Brookline has the opportunity of contributing very much, and the time is ripe for a more earnest effort in this direction than has yet been made.

In conclusion, I wish to express my appreciation of the faithful and intelligent services of the assistant music teacher, Miss Ella F. Story, which have contributed much toward whatever of success has been attained.

SAMUEL W. COLE.

THE EVENING SCHOOL.

The evening school opened on Wednesday, Oct. 30, and the first three nights were devoted mainly to classifying the students,—a somewhat difficult task, considering the differences in years and attainments on the part of the pupils, and the variety of subjects for which we wished to make provision.

The classification which we found most satisfactory, and which gave us the best results, was substantially this :

1. A class for beginners, of both sexes, who could read or write but very little or not at all, and who wished to devote their whole time to one or both of these subjects.
2. A class composed of boys only, say up to the age of 13 or 14 years.
3. A class composed of young men ; and,
4. A class of young women and girls.

Reading, writing, arithmetic, spelling and English were provided for each grade, and while anything like an elaborate programme was not attempted, we found that the pupils enjoyed thoroughly the frequent short talks on history, hygiene, and literature, and the practical lessons in letter-writing and book-keeping.

The total number registered up to Feb. 14 was 101, with an average attendance per night of forty-six. The average attendance up to Christmas was very much larger than this, and would have afforded plenty of work for four teachers instead of three. Since then we have experienced, in common with evening schools everywhere, a considerable falling off,—not quite so noticeable in January as in February.

The above figures, showing total registration and average attendance, do not include the class in mechanical and architectural drawing, a report of which accompanies this.

With a sufficient number of wide-awake teachers, properly equipped rooms, and a plentiful supply of modern text-books, we see no reason why the evening school may not fulfill its mission.

O. H. BRESEE.

EVENING DRAWING SCHOOL.

The total number of students registered during the year was 18; the number in the school at present (Feb. 12) 12; the average attendance per night, 11.

The time is entirely devoted to mechanical drawing, and to only one side of that subject, viz., building construction. Machine drawing is not taught, because all the pupils are carpenters, with one exception; therefore the course of study is planned to meet the needs of these men. The fact that these practical men attend regularly, shows conclusively the utility of the school.

Many buildings are constantly being erected in this town, thus causing a number of mechanics engaged in this work to reside here permanently. Many of these men would be glad to avail themselves of the opportunities offered by the school if they knew of its existence. Hand-bills, giving full information, if posted in various parts of the town previous to the opening of school, would accomplish this object.

The blackboard used at present is not at all adequate to the work. One twice as large is indispensable, if the best results are to be obtained, as considerable time must now be wasted in drawing the large constructions piecemeal on the small board.

REPORT OF THE TRUANT OFFICER.

REPORT OF THE BUILDING COMMITTEE ON THE NEW HIGH SCHOOL.

The Building Committee appointed by the town submitted a report last year informing the town of the contracts that had been made for the construction of the building, and expressing the belief that the entire cost would not exceed the appropriation of $200,000. Your committee has had this aim constantly in view, and have declined to make changes that would lead to an increase of this amount. We are pleased to say that the total sum will come within the appropriation.

As the building approached completion, and it became necessary to make arrangements for furnishing and equipping it for use, your committee secured estimates of the sum that would probably be necessary to include the grading and ornamentation of the grounds, and the decoration of the large Assembly Hall. The grading included the cost and setting of the blue stone around the open spaces and at each side of the entrances, and the sum of three thousand dollars was asked for to decorate the hall. The town generously appropriated the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars, being the amount of our estimate, which will not be exceeded. A few bills are not yet settled, as will appear.

The heating and ventilating apparatus is not entirely satisfactory, and a few changes will be required to remedy defects. It is not expected the expense will be large, to produced the results desired. It should be stated that Messrs. Kenrick Brothers have performed their work in a satisfactory manner.

The building most admirably fulfills its purpose, and is well equipped for the work. In regard to the external appearance, which has called forth some unfavorable criticism, the committee felt obliged to eliminate some features from the original plan on account of the expense; otherwise the cost would have largely exceeded the appropriation, and this would not have been justifiable.

The committee have been obliged to give much personal attention to the work, both while it was in progress and since its completion, in consequence of some unsatisfactory results in the heating, already stated, and defects in the electrical wiring, but the necessary changes will soon be made. Complaint has been made in respect to the acoustic properties of the Assembly Hall, and this matter is receiving our attention and it is expected an improvement will be effected.

The tower will appear to serve a useful purpose by the addition of a clock face, and your committee have the matter under consideration. A most beautiful design has been furnished by the architects, but the expense is more than we can recommend the town to pay, and it should be met by the funds in hand, rather than call for an additional appropriation.

The grounds have been laid out and ornamented with shrubs and plants under the direction of Messrs. Olmsted, Olmsted & Eliot, and will contribute greatly to the general effect.

The expenses for construction are as follows :

The balance on hand, including bills unpaid, of the construction amount is $994.70, and the balance on hand on account of the furnishing is $1,964.22. This amount will be reduced by reason of the changes that will be required to properly complete the work. The financial result of this great work is most satisfactory to the committee, and the statement will doubtless be equally satisfactory to the town. It is not often that a work of this nature, and involving the expenditure of so much money, is accomplished without a supplementary appropriation.

. It may be interesting to make a comparison of the cost of High School buildings in this vicinity. The cost as stated is exclusive of lot and furnishing, and the item of square feet is the ground area :

Roxbury,	$304,000	20,000 square feet.
Lynn,	249,000	19,000 " "
Cambridge,	220,000	16,000 " "
Brookline,	200,000	19,750 " "
Lowell,	150,000	18,500 " "

Our High School building has more complete facilities for science teaching, art study and physical training than any other similar school in the country, and more space per pupil than any of the schools above mentioned. It can easily accommodate more than double the number of pupils now attending; thus ample provision has been made for growth.

In concluding this report, the committee desire to congratulate the town upon the facilities and advantages that are now offered the youth of this town for obtaining an education suited to the age in which we live, adapted to its requirements, and wide and varied in its scope and character. That it is free to all is one of the chief glories and beneficent results of the institutions under which it is our privilege to live.

REPORT OF THE PARK COMMISSIONERS.

The Board of Park Commissioners have the honor to submit their fifteenth annual report for the year ending January 31st, 1896.

The sum of $5,000 was appropriated for the maintenance of the Park system, for the year 1895-6, all of which, excepting $143.39, has been expended, as will appear from the detailed statement of expenditures submitted herewith. The Commissioners ask for the same amount for the current year, namely, $5,000.

The sum of $4,000 was appropriated for construction work on the Longwood-avenue Playground, all of which has been expended, together with the sum of $57.13 in excess of the appropriation, as will appear from the detailed statement of expenditures submitted herewith.

During the past year such advantageous offers for material for the raising of the grade of the Longwood Playground were received, that the Commissioners deemed it best for the town to make contracts for material in excess of the appropriation, it being understood, and was specified in the contracts, that the parties furnishing the filling would rely for their payment upon the future appropriations by the town. These contracts were made in writing, and amount to $2,361.30. For further details in respect to this matter, reference is made to the report of the Town Engineer.

At the time of the purchase of the Longwood Playground, it was estimated that the cost of filling and finishing this Playground would amount to $27,000, and it was so reported to the town in the report of the Commissioners for the year 1894. But in consequence of the more advantageous terms for filling than the Commissioners could obtain at the time this estimate was made, the lower level now adopted, but not then contemplated, and the large deposits of ashes made by the town, it is now possible to finish the work with a further estimated expenditure of $8,000, including the amount of $2,361.30, as above stated. This will fully complete the work. If this estimate should prove to be correct, the total expenditure for grading the Longwood Playground would amount to $17,000, instead of $27,000, the original estimate. The Commissioners ask for the sum of $8,000 for completing this work during the present year.

At the last annual town meeting an appropriation of $500 was made to enable the Park Commissioners to examine and report on the question of additional playgrounds for the town, and the Commissioners have given serious consideration to this problem. About one-half the whole area of the township of Brookline is already occupied by a moderately dense population, and within this district the town possesses three playgrounds: one on Longwood avenue, one on Brookline avenue, and one on Cypress street, besides a considerable tract of land on Harvard street, adjoining the Edward Devotion school-house. These grounds are found within that part of the northern half of the township which has been longest occupied. The newer settlements in the direction of Fisher Hill and Chestnut Hill reservoirs are not provided with any public grounds. The whole southern half of the township, south of Boylston street, is similarly lacking in playground reservations. For the newer suburbs in the northwest part of the township, it is already too late to purchase land for playgrounds at low prices, and every additional street and street railway in the southern half of the township will cause an advance in value of land.

Provision should be made now for sites for the school-houses which will be needed in the southern part of the town. In providing playgrounds and school sites for the future, the Commissioners believe that the policy of the town should be to secure several pieces of land, each with an area of from five to ten acres, rather than one or two larger bodies of land, which might be regarded as parks. They believe, moreover, that the least high-priced land, and land unsuited for general building purposes, should be selected, due regard being had to convenient location and the possibilities in the future of improvement at reasonable cost.

While the Commissioners do not believe that any expenditure would be necessary or expedient on such playgrounds for many years to come, they do believe that the land for them must be secured now if it is to be acquired; and after discussing the whole subject of the future development and needs of the town with the Selectmen, and with their unanimous approval, they recommend to the town to appropriate the sum of $100,000, to be expended by the Commissioners for the purchase in different parts of the town of such pieces of land for playgrounds and school-house sites as in their judgment seems necessary or desirable; no land to be acquired without the approval of the Selectmen. The Commissioners ask for this appropriation without designating any particular land they might consider it advisable to purchase, because they believe that much better terms can be secured for the town by buying first and reporting afterward, than by the method usually employed in such cases: that is, in making known beforehand the plans of the town, a method which gives to the seller every advantage and deprives the purchaser of the benefits of good business methods.

It is easy for anyone familiar with the increase of land values in Brookline in the last twenty-five years, or even within the last ten years, to realize what it would cost the town to buy a playground of five acres at the end of twenty-five or fifty years from this time, when the density of our population and the demands of civilization will require that every large school-house shall be surrounded with ample space for the use of the children of the town. As this expenditure is entirely for the benefit of future generations, your Commissioners recommend that the money be borrowed for as long a period as the law allows.

Respectfully,

HENRY M. WHITNEY,
CHARLES S. SARGENT,
WILLIAM H. LINCOLN,

Park Commissioners.

REPORT OF TRUSTEES OF WALNUT HILLS CEMETERY.

The Trustees of Walnut Hills Cemetery herewith submit their report for the year ending January 31st, 1896.

The Cemetery has been in charge of Myron D. Fisher, superintendent. The usual care has been taken of the grounds, avenues and paths. Twenty-two lots have been trenched and sixteen lots graded and finished. Seventeen lots and eighteen single-grave lots have been sold.

The contemplated alterations in, and additions to, the superintendent's house have been made, and an additional shed has been built at the stable.

The cost of these improvements was $1,798.39. A horse has also been purchased, at a cost of $125.00. The total receipts from all sources, as per Treasurer's report, have been $5,730.00; the total payments have been $4,823.05. Cash balance on hand $906.95; amount due on unsettled accounts $155.50. For details of these receipts and expenditures see Treasurer's report.

Deducting the amount spent on buildings and the purchase of a horse last year, from the total amount spent, it appears that the sum of $2,899.66 was the cost of maintaining the Cemetery. The amount received from sources other than the special town appropriation was $3,680. If, therefore, the town appropriates by by-law or otherwise the money received from the sale of lots and the other ordinary receipts, no special appropriation would be required in any year, unless some unusual work is to be done.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON PLANTING TREES.

BROOKLINE, February 17, 1896.

During the past year there were planted 218 roadside trees, as follows: Harvard street, 80; Williams street, 3; Center street, 2; Fuller street, 2; Thorndike street, 5; Kent square, 2; Beacon street, 12; University place, 4; Cypress-street Playground, 6; lot at Brookline Hills Station, 62 (poplar); St. Paul street, 2; Buckminster road and other streets, 16; Maple street, 18; Stearns road, 3; Kent street, 1.

Planting-holes have been prepared also for Corey road and Windsor road, 40; Fairbanks street, 16; and Devon street, 23.

The Town Nursery, which was established last spring, contains about 2,000 thrifty young trees that will come into use from year to year, at much advantage.

Last year's appropriation was $2,250; $250 of which was for the purchase of trees for the Nursery. There remained of this sum unexpended on February 1st, last, the end of the fiscal year, $41.22.

Your committee respectfully suggest that the usual appropriation of $2,000 be allowed for the ensuing year.

REPORT OF THE ASSESSORS.

The Assessors of the town of Brookline submit their report for the year 1895.

The board organized with R. G. F. Candage as chairman, and Albert Cushman as clerk.

The Assessors recommend to the town the continuance of the present arrangement with the owner of Roslin Cottage for their office, at the rental of $600 per annum, and with Mr. Charles E. Riley to occupy a part of the rooms with his family, to take care of the building, sweep and keep the rooms in order, take care of the grounds, and attend to the heating, for his rent; the cost of fuel to be shared by him and by the town, as in the past year.

They also recommend the continuance of the appropriation of $300, for extra clerical work for the board, made necessary on account of dividing the town into assessment districts, and the adoption of the block system, first carried into effect in 1895.

The board is strongly of opinion that the election of Assessors by the town should be for a term of three years, one member's term to expire each year, and it is recommended that the town take action so to elect its Assessors for the year 1897.

As every year abatements to a large amount are made, leaving a deficit of ten or twelve thousand dollars in the town treasury, the Assessors recommend that the town appropriate the sum of twelve thousand dollars ($12,000) for abatements, thereby returning to the former custom in this respect. Abatements become necessary on account of errors in areas, in values, in amounts assessed but not collectable, and in amounts not collected within the year for which taxes are levied.

The board, as required by statute, printed and posted legal notices and published the same during the month of May in the Brookline Chronicle, and printed slips were left by members of the board at all dwellings and places of business in town, requesting tax-payers to bring in true lists of their polls, real and personal estates.

The town was divided into three districts. No. 1, the northern and eastern district, was assigned to Mr. Candage; No. 2, the middle district, was assigned to Mr. Stearns; and No. 3, the southern and western district, was assigned to Mr. Talbot.

The work of visiting dwellings, places of business, and the examination of real estate, began promptly on May 1st, and was completed early in June. There has been a small loss in personal property, but real estate made a gain, chiefly in the erection of new buildings; there was also an increase in the number of polls.

The probate records of Norfolk and Suffolk counties have been consulted; the corporation and bank stock lists at the Tax Commissioners' office at the State House have been examined for the purpose of making an equitable and just tax levy.

The male polls assessed were 4,409; female polls, 63; transfers of real estate, 401; resident tax-payers, 2,144; estates, trusts and firms, 336; non-resident individuals, 296; non-resident estate trusts, 98; total, 5,348. Males paying poll-tax only, 2,908; female polls, 63. Total tax bills, 5,782; horses, 1,473; cows, 465; sheep, 176; hens, 300; dwelling-houses, 2,385; other buildings, 763; acres of land, 3,736.

Valuation of personal estate	$15,299,000 00
Valuation of real estate	43,703,600 00
Total	$59,002,600 00

To the above amount should be added the value of bank and corporation stocks assessed at the State House—say, $9,300,000,—making, in round numbers, $68,302,600.

The total town appropriations were $832,356.32; State tax, $35,685; County tax, $56,930.90; Metropolitan sewer tax, $12,580.34; and overlay, $4,328.14; total, $941,880.70. The estimated receipts, $225,000.00, deducted, left the sum of $716,880.70 to be raised by taxation, which made the rate $12.00 on $1,000,—a reduction of 60 cents on $1,000, from the rate of 1894.

As the Assessors are by law charged with the duty of levying the taxes, and with providing the means of meeting the annual expenses of the government of the town, it may not be taken amiss if they repeat here what they said last year, that “Increased appropriations carry with them increased tax rates, and, not infrequently, increased town debt. It is too late to find fault with the taxes and tax-rate after the appropriations are made; the subject should be well considered before that, by the citizens."

Herewith is presented the condensed statement of the taxation for the year 1895, and a table of aggregates of debt, expenditures, valuation and rate, from February 1st, 1847, to date.

CHARLES H. STEARNS,
